GOD SAVE THE KING!

HIS MAJESTY KING GEORGE V.

Who Today Attains His Forty-Eighth Birthday

GREAT TRIBUTE TO THE PREMIER

Thousands Gather at New Westminster to Celebrate Tenth Anniversary of Introduction of Party Lines.

SIR RICHARD McBRIDE ON NAVAL QUESTION

Declares People of Canada Are Behind Hon. Mr. Borden and Will Protest Against Injustice Perpetrated.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., June 2.—A remarkable tribute was that paid this evening by the people of this city and the surrounding district to the Premier, Sir Richard McBride, on the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the establishment of party government within the Province of British Columbia. Thousands were present in the Arena building to listen to the leader of the Government, and the demonstration was undoubtedly the largest in point of attendance that has greeted any public man West of the Rockies on Canadian soil. The general interest and enthusiasm in the event was marked by the presence of great numbers of ladies, and even the school children seemed inspired by the significance of the historic occasion and entered heartily with the rest of the vast audience in the singing of the numerous patriotic airs with which the programme of speeches was interspersed.

The Premier and his confreres in the Cabinet who accompanied him to New Westminster, arrived during the afternoon, when they were driven around the city and shown the development that has recently taken place, special attention being paid to the manufacturing plants and the exhibits of home manufacturers.

In the evening the doors of the arean opened at 7 o'clock, and even at that hour there were people waiting to enter the building. The interior was handsomely decorated in red, white and blue bunting, relieved with streamers and flags. A large platform occupied one end, its spaciousness being relieved with palms and potted flowers.

Mr. Nels. Nelson, president of the New Westminster Conservative Association, presided over the gathering.

Hon. W. R. Ross congratulated New Westminster on its progressive spirit, endorsing the chairman's eulogium of Sir Richard McBride as a native son. Hon. Dr. Young followed, dealing with the educational achievements of the Ministry, Attorney-General Bowser was unable to be present, owing to illness.

Sir Richard McBride

The Premier, who was received with rounds of enthusiastic applause following the singing of "Rule Britannia," and the presentation by Misses Freda Nelson, Margery Richards and Annie Smith of a large floral emblem made in the form of a maple leaf, commenced, as an old high school boy, by thanking the pupils of the high school, the value of which institution he eulogized for the presentation made to him. He stated that when it was suggested this celebration be held in New Westminster, he at once, with the greatest pleasure, fell into line.

They would recall that tomorrow would be the birthday of His Majesty King George, and it was very regrettable they were not in a position to say "Here, your Majesty, are three ships, you may have them for—if necessary—the defence of the Empire."

COMMONS TO VOTE MONEY

Canadian Northern Subsidies and Proposed Loan to Grand Trunk Pacific Discussed at Conservative Caucus

OTTAWA, June 2.—A Conservative caucus was held this evening to consider some difficulties which have arisen in connection with the Canadian Northern subsidies and the proposed loan to the Grand Trunk Pacific. It is understood that while some of the private members were disposed to criticize these proposals, it was agreed, after discussion, that in both instances the money should be voted before the House rises. The proposal of a group of Western members about those who lost money by the failure of the Farmer's Bank was also discussed, but no decision was arrived at.

LAUREATE PASSES AWAY

Alfred Austin Dies at Age of Seventy-Eight—Succeeded Lord Tennyson

LONDON, June 2.—Alfred Austin, British poet laureate since 1896, died yesterday at the age of 78.

Alfred Austin, besides being a poet, was a barrister, a critic, a novelist, a war correspondent and a political writer. He published his first peom anonymously at the age of 18.

The greater part of his poetical work was published between the years 1881 and 1890, including "Savonarola," "Prince Lucifer" and "English Lyrics." The poet laureate, who succeeded Lord Tennyson, died at his home, Winford Old Manor, Ashford, Kent, where he had been ill for some time.

TEMPERANCE CAMPAIGN

Societies Will Endeavor to Force Vote on Question of Making Montreal a Prohibition Town

MONTREAL, June 2.—French Catholic temperance leagues under the direction of the Anti-Alcoholic League, the head of which is Judge Lafontaine, will hold a meeting on Wednesday night next to formulate plans to unite with the Dominion Alliance in this city, to bring about the vote on the question of making Montreal a prohibition town. The plans for the campaign will be formulated at a joint meeting of the two organizations to be held shortly.

Temperance advocates say Montreal has become a stronghold of the liquor interests, and it is here the fight will be waged, especially as the crusade has met with such success throughout the other parts of Quebec. Liquor interests are getting active, and a strenuous fight is expected. There is great jubilation over the action of the French section in coming out strongly for a "dry" town.

Submarine Sustains Damage

PORTSMOUTH, England, June 2.—While engaged in manoeuvres off the Isle of Wight today a flotilla of submarines made a mimic attack on the battleships Irrestible and Prince of Wales, of the home fleet. The latter collided with a submerged submarine, wrecking the conning tower and superstructure.

The submarine, however, was able to reach the surface and return to Portsmouth. The damage to the battleship consisted of the indentation of a few bottom plates.

GREAT BUILDING TO BE STARTED

Already preliminary work has been ordered by officials of the Hudson's Bay Co. on the immense block which will be built by that historic company in Victoria.

Instructions were received here yesterday by wire to have surveyors employed on the Douglas Street site, purchased some time ago, for the purpose of obtaining levels and other data necessary for the direction of the contractors receiving the excavation contract. This action was taken immediately, Gore & McGregor being asked to prepare the required report without delay.

Mr. H. E. Burbidge, chief stores commissioner for the company, whose headquarters are at Calgary, Alta., is en route to this city in connection with the project. He was expected yesterday, but was delayed and is confidently looked for today. There is authoritative reason to believe that, before he leaves, the contract will be let for all the initial operations, and the block's early construction assured.

As it is the ultimate intention to erect either a nine or ten-storey building, the foundation must be of an exceptionally sound character. The structure will occupy the entire space of the exceedingly large property chosen for it, there being a frontage of 240 feet on Douglas, and 120 feet both on Fisguard and Herald Streets.

For these reasons considerable time will be taken by the excavators and those entrusted with the installation of the cement basement. However, as it is not likely that much rock will be encountered, those interested are looking forward to seeing the workmen make good progress from the outset.

Shortly after the site indicated was purchased word came from London that the Hudson's Bay Co.'s directors had made an appropriation of $250,000 for their new home in this city. Then there was no definite indication as to when the project would be inaugurated. However, the belief was general among those in touch with the company's affairs that there would be no delay, as there was much need for store facilities to meet the requirements of this constantly growing city. That this is the present sentiment is indicated by Mr. Burbidge's forthcoming visit, and his obvious intention of hurrying the block to completion.

Just how far it is intented to carry the building now will be announced by Mr. Burbidge. According to a statement issued a short time ago, four or five stories will be finished right away. It is possible that orders will be given to carry out the plans in their entirety. At any rate the Hudson's Bay Co.'s new home will be well under way in the next few months, and with Victoria's continued development in commerce and population, the company will have here quarters that will rival in size, permanancy and attractiveness anything in the West.

Sealing Convention

OTTAWA, June 2.—In the House of Commons today the third reading was given to Hon. C. J. Doherty's bill in regard to pelagic sealing. It gives effect in Dominion waters to the provisions of the convention arranged in 1911 between Great Britain, the United States, Russia and Japan.

Hoist and Shaft House Burned

NELSON, June 2.—The fire at the War Eagle Mine at Rossland has burned itself out after destroying the hoist and shaft house. The burned building and hoist were insured for $25,000.

HOLD SESSIONS AT OTTAWA

Commission of Arbitration Will Consider Number of Long Standing Claims

OTTAWA, June 2.—Pecuniary claims, hoary, some of them, with the weight of a century and involving millions sterling, claims which have vexed the Governments of Great Britain and the United States since the middle of the last century, will be considered by a commission of arbitration which will sit in Ottawa next Monday under a treaty signed three years ago.

This is the first sitting of the commission in Canada, though it has already met in Washington. Mr. C. J. B. Hurst, the representative of Great Britain on the tribunal, is here, while the chairman, Mr. Fremagol, representing France, as the foreign arbitral element, and Mr. Chandler H. Anderson, the United States arbitrator, will shortly arrive. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick is Canada's representative.

"Some of the claims we have to consider," said Mr. Hurst, "date back to the eighteenth century. The last commission of this kind sat in 1853 and adjudicated no claims after 1814, so that we have two which arose before that year. One of these is the Canadian Government's Cayuga Indian claim, which arose in 1794. Some of the claims we consider to be ridiculous pretensions, while in others the amounts total as high as a million and a half sterling."

Only a few cases will be considered at the present session, but an adjournment will be made until next Spring, when there will be a three months' sitting. The sessions will be public, and the procedure judicial, claimants being represented by their counsel. The Newfoundland fishery claims by the United States firms will be among the first ones considered.

ACCEPT CHANGES IN BANK ACT

Minister of Finance Is Criticized for Not Offering the Amendments Made by the Senate.

OTTAWA, June 2.—The House made a clean-up of the majority of the bills on the order paper today. Half a dozen were given their final reading, while others were advanced to such a stage that they can be dealt with at one or two sittings of the House.

The most interesting development occurred in connection with the consideration of a few amendments made by the Senate to the Bank Act. Some of the members criticized the Minister of Finance for not opposing the changes made by the Upper House.

Hon. W. T. White maintained that they were not important enough to quarrel about, and he had no desire to delay the prorogation of the House.

When the motion to concur was put, a devision was demanded and ten members voted "Nay," including four from the West, Messrs. Meighen, Bennett and Stevens (Conservative), and Buchanan (Liberal). The division stood 83 to 10.

The bills dealt with included the act to provide salaries for new judges in various provinces, and the bill respecting forest reserves in Western Canada, under which is it proposed to add land not fit for agricultural use to some of

FOUR FREIGHTERS PERISH

Lose Their Lives When Scow Is Wrecked in Grand Canyon, Tete Jaune Cache District

EDMONTON, Alta., June 2.—News has been received in this city that four freighters have been drowned in Grand Canyon, Tete Jaune Cache district, by the breaking of a scow which they were navigating. The victims of the accident were named St. John, Dutch, Nixon and William Kennedy. The latter was a native of Alexandria, Ontaria.

Four men are believed to have been drowned in the Berter Rapids of the Athabasca river, between Grand Rapids and Fort McMurray. Their canoe was found bottom up on the river bank, and their blankets, with provisions strewn about. Gordon Haight, one of the Hudson's Bay Company employees, brought the news. The names of three of the men are A. Shirley, W. Campbell and John Papin, of St. Albert. They left the Landing a short time ago.

Historical Documents

OTTAWA, June 2.—Historical documents dating back to the very beginning of Canadian history have been made accessible through the archives department during the past year, these being the records of the seminary of St. Sulpice of Montreal, the original owners of land of Montreal, and still the most wealthy and important order in Canada. Details of these are given in the annual report or archives branch which was tabled today. Other important accessions during the year, included the papers of Hon. Jos. Howe and the papers of George Johnston.

IS CONSIDERING HINDU QUESTION

Senator Lougheed Says Immigration Problem Is Now Before Government—Replies to Opposition in Senate.

OTTAWA, June 2.—In the Upper House today Senator Bostock brought up the question of Hindus in Canada, and a report that they were being ill-treated. He quoted figures to show that some five thousand had come to Canada. He stated that they were not adapted to Canadian conditions or Canada's climate and approved of the arrangement made by Hon. Mackenzie King with the British Government, which has practically stopped all Hindu arrivals in Canada since 1908. The Government of India expressed its appreciation of the action of Canada. The present Government had not given the attention it should have to an application by the Hindus in Canada to be allowed to bring in their wives. The result was that agitators in India had stirred up feeling.

Senator Douglas said he had been in India for many years and had practical experience with the Sikhs. The action of British Columbia towards the Sikhs was un-Christian, un-British and ungrateful. The Sikhs were splendid men who had fought under the British flag. To inflict upon these men the cruelty of depriving them of the association of their wives was a thing unworthy of any part of the British Empire. In British Columbia the question was not one of race, but of labor organizations. The Canadian climate was not suitable to these men, and he would advise them to stay at home; but those who came should not be deprived of their wives and children.

Senator Davis said it was strange that a citizen of British India should not be allowed travel in any part of the British Empire. The Province was not against all classes of Oriental labor. Last year 7,705 Chinese came in, paying $500 head tax each, or $3,450,000, of which British Columbia got about one and three-quarters million. The Province wanted the money for some Chinese, but they did not want Sikhs who were brave men. There seemed to be every reason to follow the example of the United States and exclude Chinese altogether. The Sikhs might as well be allowed in.

Senator Cloran condemned the treatment of the Sikhs.

Senator Power said he hoped the Government would do something which would prevent the Sikhs returning to India, boiling with indignation against Canada. It seemed to be un-British to say such men should not be allowed to enter Canada or any other part of the Empire for which they had fought. At the coronation he had seen Sikhs marching in the same procession with Canadian soldiers.

Hon. Mr. Lougheed said the range of discussion was wide and had dealt not only with the Hindus, but the Chinese question. Senator Lougheed said that the law of India forbade emigration of

NEW PROBLEM IN NAVAL DEFENCE

Killing of Bill by Canadian Senate May Result in Changes in Great Britain's Shipbuilding Programme.

QUESTIONS ASKED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

First Lord of Admiralty Says Situation Will Receive Attention of Government—Statement to Be Made Soon.

LONDON, June 2.—During question hour in the House of Commons this afternoon, Sir John B. Lonsdale, Unionist member for Mid-Armagh, asked whether, in view of the fact that in the opinion of His Majesty's Government, the three proposed Canadian dreadnoughts were not additional to the whole world naval requirements of the British Empire, it was proposed in the event of any delay in laying down the ships, to bring down supplementary estimates providing for three additional capital vessels in the current year.

In reply, Hon. Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, said: "The new situation which has arisen requires and will receive the attention of the Government."

Sir J. B. Lonsdale: "May I ask this: If these three vessels are not commenced this year, will not the navy fall below the requirements of the Empire?"

Hon. Mr. Churchill: "I cannot add anything to the answer I have given."

Mr. A. H. Lee, Unionist member for the Fareham Division of Hampshire: "Can the First Lord give the House any idea when he is likely to be able to make any statement to the House on this very vital question?"

Hon. Mr. Churchill: "I should not like to commit myself, but I hope that during the present month, the principle which is raised in this question will be the subject of a statement on the part of His Majesty's Government."

The incident then closed.

SHOT BY SEATTLE WOMAN

Slays Man Who Entered Home and Attacked Her—Children Accompany Mother to Jail

SEATTLE, June 2.—Mrs. Jennie Perry, nineteen years old, wife of a cook on the steamship Senator, shot and killed Louis Perriea, aged 25, a Portuguese cook on the steamship Spokane, when Perriea entered the Perry home and attacked her tonight. When Perriea demanded admission, Mrs. Perry told him to go away as her husband was not at home, having sailed for Alaska yesterday. Perriea forced his way into the house and, seizing a pair of scissors, threatened to kill Mrs. Perry. Mrs. Perry, pursued by Perriea, fled into a bedroom, where her three children, ranging in age from nine months to three years, were sleeping, and seizing a revolver, shot Perriea four times. Mrs. Perry is held in the city jail. She was permitted to take the children to jail with her.

HEAVY LOSSES REPORTED

Four Hundred Killed in Battle Between Mexican Federals and Rebels—Insurgents Lack Ammunition

EL PASO, Texas, June 2.—Four hundred are reported killed in a battle on Saturday between Chihuahua city and Santa Rosalia, Chihuahua state. Both rebels and federals withdraw after the day's fighting, with the losses divided. The federals were commanded by Col. Romero, who is attempting to open the Mexican Central Railway south of the State Capital.

NOGALES, Arizona, June 2.—General Medro Ojeda's federals yesterday shelled the constitutionalist camp at Maytorena and drove the state troops back to their base at Ortiz. The insurgents are said to be short of water, which must be hauled from stations to the north along the Southern Pacific Railway, and also lack of ammunition.

A most important step towards a solution of the differences is the agreement for a meeting of the Premiers of the four Balkan States, which will be held at St. Petersburg for a joint decision of all the questions arising out of the war.

CLOSE ELECTION IN AUSTRALIA

Result of Federal Contest in Doubt—Successful Party Will Have Small Majority in House.

LONDON, June 2.—A special Sydney dispatch to The Morning Post says the results of the election for the House of Representatives are now complete, and it is now practically certain the Government was defeated and that a majority of one against them already exists. The result of one seat is still in doubt. A Labor majority, however, is assured in the Senate. The half of the Senate which did not go to the polls is purely Labor, and of the contested seats, the Labor party has won at least half. The Senate will thus have three-fourths Labor members.

The leader of the Opposition, Joseph Cook, who will probably be the next Premier, has a majority of 1,000 in his district. Sir William Lyne was defeated for Hume.

The state of the parties in the House of Representatives is now: Liberals, 38; Labor, 36; doubtful, 1.

The Times Sydney correspondent says that today's count in the federal elections has completely altered the position of the parties. The latest returns give the Liberals an almost certain majority of one and possibly three.

The cause of the Liberal victory is now unmistakable. It is feared that the rural workers' demands has transferred sufficient votes to defeat the Labor party in all farming constituencies throughout New South Wales and Victoria.

PLAY IS DISAPPOINTING

A large audience filled the Victoria Theatre last evening to see Madame Alla Nazimova play the title role in the dramatized version of Hichen's unpleasant novel "Bella Donna." The famous Russian actress was supported by an admirable cast, the part of Dr. Isaacson being splendidly taken by Mr. Charles Bryant; that of Hon. Nigel Armine, by Mr. Herbert Percy; Mahmoud Baroudi, by Robert Whitworth; Dr. Hartley, by Mr. Edward Fielding; Ibrahim, by Mr. A. R. Callender, and Hamza, by Claus Bogel. The minor roles were also well sustained.

In itself "Bella Donna" leaves such a thoroughly nauseating taste in the average palate that the only relieving feature about its four acts would seem to be the wonderful acting of Madame Nazimova, and the beautiful stage settings. But the general impression carried away last evening must have been that the vehicle was not worthy of so fine an actress, while allowing for the obvious reminder that all the same it was her own skill that made it go even as well as it did.

The poverty of the dialogue was noticeable, but as might be expected in such a play, there were one or two striking climaxes. Still, it is to be hoped that the next time so welcome an actress as Madame Alla Nazimova honors Victoria with a visit, she will bring with her a play that is worthy of her undoubted histrionic gifts and of the audience that gathers to see her.

MUCH TALK BUT NO RESULT

City Council Wanders Far Afield in Discussion Arising From Suggestion of Mayor

A discussion which ranged from the question of the advisability of paying civic employees who through age are incapable of earning the full minimum wage of $3 per day, that amount rather than have to provide for their maintenance in some other manner, to the necessity of calling upon the Dominion Government to revise its immigration policy, kept the members of the City Council talking for nearly an hour last night. The upshot of the argument was no definite action and while the Mayor took some umbrage at Alderman Cuthbert's remarks that the Council was simply wasting time in discussing academic questions when there is civic business to be transacted, each of the aldermen appeared to think that to revise the Government's immigration policy was somewhat beyond the scope of the Victoria City Council.

The Mayor introduced the subject by calling attention to the fact that while the board has decided that sewer work shall be done by day labor there yet remained the question of what shall be done in regard to the complaint of the city engineer that his department is being charged with the cost of work done by old men who are unable to do a full day's work. These old men, the Mayor believed, are doing the best they can and they have a just claim on the city, but there is another difficulty, the advent of scores of men from the Old Country who are lured here with promises of work and when they arrive are not fitted by education or training to do the only work they can get, the work of rough laborers. The Mayor urged that the Council back up the stand he took two years ago when he wrote to the Government pointing out the serious nature of a policy which is filling the country with men who are unable to do the only work they can find to do. The Mayor also expressed his regret that the Council of two years ago had "stultified" itself by agreeing to give a minimum wage of $3. Many men could do $2 or $2.50 worth of work a day who cannot earn the $3, and yet the city has to pay the latter amount. As the city is not in a profit-making business, the unions should not insist upon the minimum wage in such cases.

"Now it's the Government you want to run," said Alderman Cuthbert. "You may be able to be Mayor, City Solicitor, City Engineer and all the rest of it, but I'm hanged if you can also be Premier of Canada. I'm sick and tired of hearing these academic questions brought up in this Council."

Alderman Humber declared that all that is required is common sense in the engineering department and the problem of the old men would be solved. Old men are doing work which should be done by young men. The latter are engaged at such easy work as cutting grass on the boulevards, work which might be given to the others.

Alderman Fullerton resented any criticism of the unions, which have no desire to embarrass the city, but with the hundreds of men out of work the old-time residents are entitled to first chance, and the new arrivals must take their chance of getting work. He thought the city engineer had had no experience in day work and was only accustomed to contract work.

The discussion was wandering nowhere in particular when Alderman Humber urged that the Mayor's suggestion be referred to a committee composed of Aldermen Dilworth, Meston, Gleason and himself to take up with the engineer. This suggestion was adopted.

NEW MEETING HOUSE IS USED BY FRIENDS

Address on "What Is Quakerism?" Delivered by Mr. Dann, of Cobble Hill—Beliefs and Observances.

There were good attendances at the Sunday meetings in the new Friends' meeting house, on Fern Street, on Sunday. At the evening meeting a most interesting address on "What is Quakerism?," was given by Mr. Herbert Dann, of Cobble Hill.

After briefly sketching the rise of the Quakers amid the troubled and disturbed conditions of England in the middle of the seventeenth century, and the remarkable spread of the new religion established by George Fox, the difference between friends and Christians of other denominations were pointed out. George Fox, after years of strenuous seeking and inquiry among the clergy and professors of religion, was unable to receive the help and strength which he realized he had need of. One day, while walking in the fields, almost overcome with despair, he suddenly seemed to hear a voice saying to him: "There is one, even Jesus Christ, who can speak to thy condition," and says he, "When I heard that my heart did leap for joy."

A strong tenet of the Friends' belief is the doctrine of the "Inner Light," that no human being need come between the soul and God, that the only mediator is Jesus Christ. That all true members of the church are called to be priests of God, and therefore to set apart one special class to act as paid ministers is not the method which is intended to serve the highest interests of the church.

Silence in Meeting

The Friends recognize the headship of Christ, alike in the meetings for worship and in the business meetings. As they believe in the immediate guidance of the Holy Spirit, their meetings for worship begin, not with a hymn or any formal opening, but by all settling themselves in silence. They hold that unreality in religion is answerable for much of the opposition to it, therefore they strive after sincerity in worship by leaving each one free to speak or to be silent as prompted by the Divine Spirit.

God often reveals Himself to the waiting soul in a striking manner in the quiet assemblies. The Friends have proved it true in experience that if a meeting for worship is thus put under the control of the Holy Spirit, He who knows the needs of those met together will give the right messages to meet those needs, and will choose His own messengers. They dare not limit Him to speak through one man only. They believe in no human priesthood that does not include all believers.

Some had thought that the Quakers did not believe in baptism or the Communion. As a matter of fact there were no stronger believers in these means of grace than they. They, however, did not use the outward symbols of baptism with water or of partaking of the bread and wine. Friends believed that the only true and efficacious baptism was the baptism of the Holy Spirit. That communion with the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ need not be merely celebrated officially once a month, but that every day, and three times a day at the ordinary breaking of bread, may this communion be entered into without any outward celebration.

There was great danger, asserted the speaker, of taking the shadow for the substance, the unreal for the real, and scriptural authority was given for the Friend's action in these matters.

The distinct command of our Lord to "Swear not at all" and "Love your enemies" were taken as being meant to be obeyed, and Friends have steadfastly declined to take the oath in courts of law or in other manner, and their uncompromising hostility to all war and the bearing of arms had been faithfully upheld for over 250 years. Friends hold that all war, offensive or defensive, is incompatible with the principles and precept of the Gospel.

Organization Methods

The speaker touched upon the business methods and organization of the Friends. The head executive body is the yearly meeting subordinate to it being quarterly and monthly meetings. There is one yearly meeting for Canada, with headquarters at Toronto. In the United States there are several yearly meetings, the oldest of which are New England and Philadelphia yearly meetings, both set up in the seventeenth century. The Western trend of Quakerism had been co-existent with the spread of population from the East. California yearly meeting and Oregon yearly meeting have been set up of recent years. In Washington State are about 900 Friends, whilst in British Columbia so far are some 200.

ESTIMATES COST OF LARGE SEWER SCHEME

Facilities to Handle City and Also Esquimalt and Saanich Drainage in Northwest Section Will Cost $325,000.

To construct the northwest sewer system of sufficient capacity to take care of a drainage area of 775 acres in Saanich, and approximately 1,000 acres in Esquimalt and make the proposed city system adequate for the future requirements, not only of that portion of the city alone, but also for the greater area covering the northwest section of the three municipalities, will cost in the neighborhood of $325,000, according to figures submitted by City Engineer Rust to the City Council last night. The construction of the city system, including the main trunk outlet through Victoria West and on out to Macaulay Point, will cost $240,000. To make this outlet sufficient for Saanich requirements in that section would mean an addition to the cost of $42,000 and to provide Esquimalt also with outlet facilities will mean a further expenditure of $43,000. The Saanich area addition would mean facilities for a population of about 11,000, and the Esquimalt addition for about 20,000.

On the recommendation of the engineer, the two other municipalities will be approached with a view of coming to a mutually satisfactory agreement relative to the joint expenditure to provide larger accommodation and also to an annual rental for use of the sewer. Esquimalt will be asked to grant permission to the city to drain ninety acres of surface water into the former municipality's surface drains which it proposes to construct. If this is done it will obviate the necessity of the city constructing a surface drain in the proposed sewer tunnel.

City Engineer Rust stated that the engineers of Esquimalt and Saanich have practically agreed upon the plans of the proposed sewer system, but that the arrangements as to cost must be taken up by the respective municipal councils. Pending the submission of the scheme to the ratepayers of Esquimalt and Saanich, a tentative agreement could be arrived at. If the outside municipalities do not fall in with the proposed scheme, it would cost them in the neighborhood of $200,000 to provide an adequate sewer system for themselves.

With a view of taking the matter up with the two rural municipalities, the engineer's recommendations were referred to the committee, composed of the City Engineer, City Solicitor and Alderman Humber, chairman of the sewers committee, to draft an agreement.

When the completed plans are ready for this larger sewer system, they will be submitted to the Government and will be passed upon by Mr. R. H. Thomson, the Government's expert, whose services the City Council recently decided should be engaged for that purpose.

REPORTS ON RESERVE PLAN

City Engineer Suggests Minor Changes Which, in His Opinion, Would Benefit City

A report upon the plan showing the proposed partition of the former Songhees Reserve was made by City Engineer Rust to the City Council last night. The plan, which the engineer stated, has been agreed upon by the railway companies interested and the Provincial Government, show that 33.93 acres have been disposed of to the Canadian Northern Railway, but it does not show the acreage which has been set apart for the E. & N. Railway. While the Government has reserved a considerable portion of the waterfront for docks, common-user yards, and industrial sites, that portion of the waterfront north of Point Ellice Bridge is given over wholly to the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway Company. It would be advisable, the engineer suggested, to have the roadway shown on the plan as running parallel to the industrial sites, carried by a ramp to the Point Ellice Bridge. The roadway now shown terminates at the northerly boundary of the industrial sites, and under the present plan all traffic from this point will reach the city by way of Johnson Street. This will entail an unnecessarily long haul to all points north of Bay Street. To carry the roadway by ramp to the Point Ellice Bridge would require some change in the layout of the C. N. P. tracks but this matter which, the engineer stated, could be easily arranged.

The engineer also pointed out that while it has been stated that the Government will grant a certain part of the reserve to the city for park purposes, the plan does not show where this park is to be located nor does it give any indication of what the Government intends doing with the balance of the property not required for railway or industrial purposes. It might be advisable to have a roadway laid out parallel to the western boundary of the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway Company's terminals from Johnson Street northerly, and either Jessie or Skinner Streets should be connected with this proposed roadway. Further it would, the engineer believed, be to the advantage of the city, if some of the waterfront could be granted to the city for public wharves, etc.

A special meeting of the Council will be held on Friday evening when the plan will be before the board and full discussion thereon can be had.

MEDICAL OFFICER REFUTES CHARGES

Suggestion That Government Quarantine Supplies Were Misused Disproved Yesterday Before Commissioner.

Just prior to the closing of yesterday afternoon's proceedings in the inquiry into the conditions at the William Head Quarantine Station, Commissioner H. W. R. Moore practically admitted that the suggestion made by a previous witness that supplies ordered ostensibly for the Government had been misappropriated by Dr. A. T. Watt, the medical superintendent, was entirely disproved.

Mr. H. B. Robertson, counsel for Dr. Watt, confined his attention almost entirely to this point in order that it might be made clear to the court by evidence, documentary and verbal, that the indirect charge against the medical superintendent was not well founded. Much time, therefore, was taken up with bringing out all the particulars with reference to a quantity of feed, etc., ordered from Scott & Peden. A number of witnesses were examined along this line, who declared that it was to be used for the Government's stock at the point, that it had been taken to the public storeroom and was being used for the purpose intended.

Before adjournment Mr. Robertson asked Commissioner Moore whether it would be necessary to subpoena any of the firm of Scott & Peden in further corroboration of the point at issue. The latter replied that, if counsel wished, he might take such action, but that it was not necessary.

Tenders for Launch

One of the first to testify was Mr. A. E. Stevens, a shipbuilder, who recounted the circumstances connected with the tendering for a launch built for the quarantine station three years ago. He said that he learned that such a work was to be undertaken, and was given a blue print but no detailed plans and specifications. He submitted a price of about $5,565. A few days afterwards he met Dr. Watt, who told him that he had opened his tender, and that the others received would be opened that day. J. A. Hinton & Company had been awarded the contract.

Witness complained that his tender had been opened before the others, the suggestion being that its amount was communicated to the Hinton Company. The matter was taken up at Ottawa, and, apparently, new tenders had been called. Mr. Stevens said he did not know that the Federal Government had taken this step, and, if there had been an advertisement to that effect, he had not seen it. At any rate, he did not tender, and the contract was given the Hinton Company, who built the boat.

Dr. Watt explained, on being called, that the communication from Mr. Stevens had come to him directly, with nothing on the envelope to indicate its contents. He had opened it quite innocently.

Mr. William Young, the night watchman, said that he had no complaint to make against Dr. Watt. He was away from the station on May 3 by the medical superintendent's permission. There was nothing unusual in this, because witness was in the habit of getting leave to visit the city about once a fortnight. To the commissioner he said that feed supplies for the station, or for anyone resident there, were handled by the Government launch.

Complaint as to Cheque

"My duty is to do what I am told," declared Mr. James Saltmarsh, who described himself as a general laborer, when put on the stand. His work on the occasion of the detention of the steamer Monteagle was to attend to the sick man in isolation. He saw Dr. Watt and two other doctors in attendance on the patient. He had a complaint to make as to delay in the receiving of his pay cheque, and also because, when he did get it, it was necessary to disburse seventy-five cents to have it negotiated. It was drawn, he stated, by the B. C. Packing Company in his favor. He had to wait about three months for it.

Another explanation was given by Dr. Watt as to how Mr. Saltmarsh happened to be paid in this manner. He pointed out that the Dominion Government was responsible only for foreign-going vessels. The ship then at the station was owned by the B. C. Packing Company, and was engaged in local waters. The custom was to charge the owners of such ships with the expenses incurred during their detention at quarantine. In this case, the accounts had been made out and forwarded to the B. C. Packing Company. The delay was caused by the absence of its manager.

Answering Commissioner Moore, the medical superintendent stated that, in the event of the B. C. Packing Company refusing to meet the expenditure, the Provincial Board of Health would have been responsible.

Mr. John Wallace, the chief steward, who keeps the Government stores at the station, said that frequently those resident at quarantine borrowed from the public supplies. He, often, also secured necessary supplies from the same private individuals. But there was a careful account kept of such interchanges, and any loan was scrupulously returned. He remembered Dr. Watt recently borrowing a sack of flour. It was charged to him. There was no general store at the station, and the Government and the residents were apt to run short of daily requirements.

Signing of Vouchers

Witness stated that all vouchers were made out in duplicate. When Dr. Hunter, the assistant medical superintendent, received the November accounts, which was early in December, they were pinned together. At this time Dr. Watt was in the East. The December accounts were presented in January. In this lot there was a duplicate voucher in favor of the B. C. Telephone Company, on which the total amount was set out with no detailed statement. He pointed this out to Dr. Hunter, who signed. Later he got the bill in the mail, and posted it to the voucher.

In the case of the Scott & Peden account, which went in with the November accounts, although the feed was not delivered until early in December, witness had dated the bill back to November 30 in order that the firm might receive its money a month earlier. This was done quite often. He did it on his own responsibility. In no instance was this back-dating resorted to unless the supplies purchased first were delivered. It was merely done for the convenience of the firms concerned.

Replying to queries made by Commissioner Moore, witness testified that he had charge of supplies. From July, 1912, to December 7, no feed had been purchased by the station with the exception of that shown by the Scott & Peden account. The Government had a stock of guinea pigs and chickens to feed.

Most of the station's books were kept by witness. He said that the departments made their requisitions for stock through him. He also had looked after the pay rolls for three or four months. Sometimes stock had been taken at quarantine, but this had not been done recently. There was not enough on hand to warrant it.

Supplies Kept Separate

Mr. Arthur Colton Bennard told of his duties while employed on Dr. Watt's ranch. He said he was thus employed for seventeen months, having left only last Saturday to take over another position. When first engaged, Dr. Watt had cautioned him about the handling of supplies, making it clear that he must not take anything to the ranch not bearing the doctor's name. Dr. Hunter, he declared, was mistaken in saying that witness did some hauling on December 2. He did some of this work on December 9. The stock then handled was the doctor's private property.

To Mr. E. E. Wootton, counsel for the Crown, witness affirmed that he never carried anything in the way of supplies to Dr. Watt's residence that was not addressed to him personally. He said that the quarantine was supplied with milk from the medical superintendent's ranch. He had charge of the sheep. By instructions it was his custom to allow them to feed on the point, which was separated from the station yards by fences. Sometimes the gates had been left open by other parties and the sheep had strayed.

Dr. Watt Testifies

Dr. Watt testified as to the regulations regarding the disposition of feed and other supplies ordered for the Government. He said that on December 6 he was in the East. Word had been received that his son was seriously ill with pneumonia, and, after obtaining the consent of Dr. Montizambert, he had left to see him. For this reason he was not in charge when the feed from Scott & Peden's store was delivered. He knew that there was a requisition for it, however. He declared positively that none of this shipment went outside the station as far as his knowledge went. He corroborated Mr. Wallace's evidence as to the exchanges that sometimes took place between private individuals and the Government stores, but asserted that there never was an instance when a strict account has not been kept and the borrowed supplies not returned.

Answering cross-examination by Mr. Wootton, the doctor stated that he had some cows on his ranch, which enabled the station to secure its supply of milk. Before he took charge, cows were quartered on the grounds. This was not desirable, because they attracted flies and were not at all a good thing to house in such an establishment. The reason that he had given instructions that the sheep be allowed to browse on the point was to keep the grass there short, thus preventing fire. In the Summer the danger from this source was an imminent one. A dropped match or any accident of the kind might start a conflagration it would be hard to stop in the hot weather.

Commissioner Moore remarked that, after an inspection of the premises, he had come to the conclusion that there could be no harm in such a practice, because if the grass was not eaten it would have to be cut.

William L. Griffiths, who had charge of the baths when the steamer Monteagle was detained at the station, said that he had heard the evidence of Mr. Graham, a passenger, as to the condition of the quarters the latter was allowed. Witness said he cleaned the baths himself, and that they were made clean. Mr. Graham had complained to him. It might have been that there was a little dirt on the floor, but there could not have been enough to make the accommodation objectionable to any reasonable person. He had asked other passengers whether they were satisfied, and all had answered affirmatively. His instructions from Dr. Watt were to attend to the baths.

The inquiry adjourned to 10 o'clock Friday morning.

TO OBVIATE SHORT WEIGHT

Mayor Urges Appointment of Official to Enforce Giving of Full Measure

That in view of the increasing cost of living and the many complaints made to him that local dealers in various products are showing a disposition to give short weight and short measure, Mayor Morley last night urged upon the City Council the necessity of appointing an inspector of weights and measures. The only provision at present existing, he pointed out, was that of the Federal law requiring the periodical inspection of scales and measures by a Government inspector, which does not cover the point of short weight or short measure.

The suggestion was referred to the city solicitor and the finance committee with a view of ascertaining if the duties of some present official could not be made to cover the work of inspector.

Chinaman Discharged—Fong, a Chinaman, was arraigned in the police court yesterday morning and accused of loitering. Inspector Walker arrested him on Saturday night when he was lying near an old fence on the property of Capt. Scott, Fisguard Street. When the accused was searched at the police station there was $119.30 in his pockets. Magistrate Jay, while he commended the officer for taking him in charge, held that there was no evidence of vagrancy and dismissed the case.

HIS MAJESTY'S BIRTHDAY.

The British Empire celebrates today the forty-eighth birthday of His Majesty, King George. He has been a sovereign for a little over three years, yet in that brief space he has endeared himself to his people in a manner and to a degree which easily makes him rank as one of the most popular monarchs who have ever occupied the British throne. In some respects his popularity is greater even than that of his illustrious father, King Edward. For His Majesty has brought to the discharge of his stewardship a new and an enlarged conception of the duty he owes his people. No monarch has ever taken a keener, a more appreciative or a more practical interest in the everyday labors of his subjects. From time to time he goes amongst them, learns at first hand of the conditions under which they work, talks with them and ascertains, so far as possible, their pleasures and their pains, and thus, we have little doubt, lightens their burdens. It is a noble ideal of duty that one so highly placed should take such a pleasure in thus coming in constant contact with the workers of his realm. For there can be little doubt that these self-imposed labors are such as he delights in, a feeling which is shared in to the full by his royal consort, Queen Mary.

When His Majesty ascended the throne he did so with a cosmopolitan education such as no previous monarch of empire ever possessed. Even today it is probably no exaggeration to say that he is the most traveled man in his wide Dominions. When only fourteen years of age he commenced his seagoing naval career on the Bacchante and for three years he cruised around the world, visiting among other places the Mediterranean, the West Indies, South Africa, China, Japan, South America, Egypt, Palestine and Greece. In 1882 he returned to England only to go shortly afterwards to France where he spent a year studying the language. The year 1883 found him a midshipman on board H. M. S. Canada in which he visited Newfoundland and the Dominion. A little later he served in the Mediterranean. He obtained his first independent command on the gunboat Thrush on the North American and West Indian station. He was promoted commander in 1891, but the following year his active career as a sailor came to an abrupt end through the death of his elder brother the Duke of Clarence, whose demise made him heir presumptive to the throne. This fact, however, did not mean that he did not continue to make himself extensively acquainted with the Empire which he was to govern. His voyage on the Ophir in 1902 when he visited Natal, Cape Colony, India, Australia, where he opened the first Commonwealth parliament, and in addition visited each of the States, and then his extended tour through Canada, was a phase in his Imperial education which is of very recent memory. It was upon his return from this voyage that in a speech at the Guildhall he electrified the Old Land by his appeal, "Wake Up England"! In 1905 he again visited India. A couple of years later found him attending the tercentenary celebrations at Quebec, on his way to which, aboard the cruiser Indomitable, that vessel broke all records for the transatlantic passage.

His travels since he ascended the throne have been necessarily circumscribed. The memorable visit to India to attend the Durbar and his coronation as Emperor, and his visit to Berlin during the past few weeks are the only times he has been out of Great Britain. But it is not improbable that both of these great occasions have been the means of making history. It is undoubted that the loyalty of those who inhabit the great eastern empire is more deep-seated today than at any time in the past, a fact for which the personality of the King, and his close acquaintance with Indian affairs is very largely responsible. It may well be also that the recent visit to Germany will be the means of cementing the friendship of that country to Great Britain and that His Majesty may deserve, as his father did before him, the title of Peacemaker.

The dominant characteristic of the King is his love of country. That is why his famous command "Wake Up England"! carried with it profound conviction to his hearers. His sympathetic understanding, coupled with his wide nd intimate knowledge of conditions in ry part of his dominions, have made him better known and more widely popular than any of his predecessors. For, through his study at close quarters, he can express with splendid force the potentialities and aspirations of Empire. It is his earnest desire to promote the welfare and happiness of every section of the far-flung realm which he rules. One of his greatest pleasures is to converse with men or women who have been responsible for great achievements, or who have given expression to great thoughts. This also is a delight which is shared by Her Majesty, as has often been evidenced during the past few years.

His Majesty, since ascending the throne, has exceeded all expectations and disappointed no predictions of the development of his great abilities when he came into greater opportunities. In every sense he has proved himself the worthy son of an illustrious father. Possessing the same commanding tact, and all those characteristics that inspire personal devotion, in equally great measure as King Edward, he has also, equally with him, and in some respects with a fuller realization, recognized the scope and obligations of his great destiny. These factors have established his firm hold on the affections of his people, who in their myriads today will wish him "many happy returns." God Save the King!

THE LAND QUESTION.

We take no exception at all to the very strenuous manner in which our local evening contemporary presses for the adoption of such steps as will place more settlers upon the land. What we object to is its statement that the policy of the Provincial Government has prevented or will prevent settlement. It is quite true that a very considerable area has been sold to what our contemporary calls speculators, but no one has yet given any proof that this has retarded colonization or will retard it, and moreover there is a great deal of excellent land which is open only to pre-emptors. It can hardly be claimed that pre-emption has been very much of a success in the Province hitherto, but we are not without a hope that it may prove more advantageous in the future. There is evidence that the so-called speculative purchases will lead to colonization. It may be of interest to mention that there is now upon one of the tracts thus acquired a party of men, the advance guard of a large body of settlers, who will come into the Province, if the pioneers send back a favorable report. Very much has been done for the advancement of Canada by colonization companies. We know of one such company, with large holdings in this Province, which is only waiting for the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific to Fort George before bringing in a very large number of settlers. Experience has shown that newcomers prefer to settle in groups, under conditions which they can select themselves in purchasing from private owners, to coming in singly and pre-empting land. Under our present system of taxation there is little inducement for private owners to hold their land very long. Agricultural land in large blocks is not likely to rise in value beyond a certain figure, and a tax of 4 per cent plus the school tax, where the land is within a school district, is a pretty heavy charge. We think it may be assumed that as soon as facilities of communication are provided, the owners of large areas of arable land will be eager to get it into the hands of settlers.

A HARBOR COMMISSION

Occasionally, we hear it said that there ought to be a Harbor Commission for Victoria. We are not greatly impressed with the urgent necessity for such a body, but on the contrary are of the opinion that it would be an error to interrupt the very satisfactory course of events at the present time by bringing into existence a board of private citizens, who might or might not be favorable to carrying out the plans now in hand. Nevertheless, for the information of readers, who may not understand what is meant by such a commission, reference may be made to The North Fraser Harbor Commissioners Act, which recently passed at Ottawa.

The jurisdiction of the Commission is over the North Arm of the Fraser, and the Commissioners will be three in number, two of whom will be appointed by the Dominion Government, the third being chosen by persons named for that purpose by the municipalities interested. The third Commissioner will hold office for three years. The Commission has no rights over private property or over property of the Crown, unless it is given by order-in-council. The municipalities transfer to the Commission any dock property or water lots which they may hold. In short, the Commission, before it can do anything, must acquire property and rights from the Governments, the municipalities or private owners. Having acquired this, it may deal with them in such manner as it deems necessary for the development and maintenance of the harbor, but it may not dispose of anything it has received from the Federal Government without receiving the assent of that body.

Having acquired the necessary property rights, the Commission may proceed to raise necessary funds for the construction of docks, warehouses and shipping facilities of all kinds and for that purpose may, subject to the approval of the Dominion Government, issue debentures, the principal and interest of which shall be chargeable against the harbor revenue. The Commission is charged with the regulation of the navigation of the harbor, with the control of buildings and other work which may in any way affect it, and generally is given full control of everything relating to its improvement, protection and use; it may also fix harbor dues, subject to the provisions of the Customs Act.

Such are the general principles of the Act incorporating this Commission, and they are substantially similar to those in the Act incorporating the New Westminster Board. If we have a Harbor Commission for Victoria, its powers will be much the same. We do not observe any provision in the Act for any remuneration to the Commissioners, and assume therefore that their services are honorary.

A NOTABLE ANNIVERSARY

Sir Richard McBride and his Ministers were the recipients of a notably enthusiastic demonstration at New Westminster yesterday. It is obvious that the people of the Province are more whole-hearted than ever in their support of the present Government. They turned out in their thousands in recognition of the significance of the occasion and gave an earnest of their affection for the leader of the Government, which must have thrilled him with delight. It is not given to many leaders of a party to enjoy such unwavering confidence. The very fact is, we believe, the reason that Sir Richard goes forward so unhesitatingly with his many and great projects for the development of the Province. Yesterday's demonstration should prove an additional incentive to him to do all in his power to make the next ten years of the history of British Columbia even more prolific of achievement than was the past decade.

FOUL OR FOWL.

On the principal that an honest confession is good for the soul, we may say that we are not quite as sure about the name of a certain bay in this vicinity as we were on Saturday. What we said then was quite correct. Foul is the name on the Admiralty Charts, and the soundings show that the name is appropriate in a nautical sense. The point at the eastern side of the Bay is also Foul Point on the charts, and this holds good of all the older maps save one. That one happens to be the oldest of all, and it is one engraved in London in 1855 for the Hudson's Bay Company from drawings by the late J. D. Pemberton. On this map the names are Fowl Bay and Fowl Point, and this might be conclusive if it were not that on the same map Gonzales Hill and Gonzales Point are written Gonzalo. This suggests that possibly Mr. Pemberton's writing may have been a trifle obscure, or that the engraver made a mistake. The oldest map in the Land Registry Office, which is dated early in the sixties, had Foul Bay, but some one has changed it so as to make the u a w. We are told of a present resident of Nanaimo who came here half a century ago and landed at the bay in a canoe from the Sound, found it very difficult to land because of the wild geese and ducks, and that the Indians called the place by a name signifying wild fowl. All the old maps, including those of old subdivisions, that we have seen have Foul Bay and Foul Bay Road. In matters of this kind, the spelling on the chart usually prevails unless it can be shown conclusively to be wrong. The matter is of no very great importance except so far as it may lead to some confusion in the description of property. There ought to be uniformity in the spelling of the name of a place.

THE BURDEN OF DEFENCE

There is one obvious outcome of the Senate's action in destroying the Naval Contribution Bill. That is that Great Britain will have to again take up the task of adding still further strength to the Imperial fleet. The First Lord of the Admiralty is on record as saying that if the three Canadian ships were not forthcoming the burden for their provision must fall on others. We quote an extract from his speech in introducing the naval estimates:

> The three proposed Canadian warships are absolutely required for the whole world defence of the British Empire, apart from England. They will play a real part in Imperial defence, and if they are not forthcoming steps will have to be taken to fill the gap, and the strain of the burden will have to be placed upon others.

This statement is further substantiated in a message which he subsequently sent to Mr. Borden and which was read in the House of Commons at Ottawa, which said:

> I must repeat that the Canadian ships are absolutely necessary for the whole world defence of the British Empire from the end of 1915 or from the beginning of 1916 onwards.

It will be remembered that in his speech on the introduction of the naval estimates Mr. Winston Churchill said that it might be necessary for him later in the year to ask Parliament for a further vote for naval purposes. He is being urged to it by a powerful section of the British press. The question of what would be done was brought up in Parliament yesterday and Mr. Churchill has promised a statement during the present month. But apart from this exhibition of public feeling on the subject is a much stronger inducement to action in the changes in the distribution of naval strength in European waters. These changes make the provision of still further British warships even more imperative than was seemingly the case at the time Mr. Churchill made the statements we have quoted above.

Within the ensuing twelve months the three great Mediterranean powers will begin the construction of ten Dreadnoughts, or exactly twice the number that Britain is laying down this year. Germany also is increasing her strength in the Mediterranean. Herein lies a new phase in the rivalry of naval armaments. In the past Great Britain has, on almost all occasions, maintained a predominating naval force in the Mediterranean, but recent events, notably the withdrawal of ships for service in the North Sea, have led to her power in the great inland sea becoming impaired. The Admiralty had hoped to restore this power by the stationing at Gibraltar of the three Canadian Dreadnoughts and as well the New Zealand and Malay ships. Gibraltar was chosen as the base for their operations, because it is within a few days' steaming of home waters and also because it is an ideal strategical base from which ships can be dispatched to various parts of the Empire in which trouble may arise. The problem which now faces Mr. Winston Churchill, that is if the vessels are to be in commission by the end of 1915, is to ask Parliament to vote money for the ships, irrespective of whatever future action Canada may take. He has said that it will be necessary to do this and has promised a statement in Parliament at an early date. Thus it would seem that because of the action of the Canadian Senate an additional burden will be placed on the shoulders of the British taxpayer. This feature of the naval situation will be humiliating indeed to all Canadians.

Today is a statutory holiday. All Government and municipal offices will be closed as well as the banks.

Everyone, or at least all who still consider themselves young, will appreciate the honor which in future will make the author of "Peter Pan" known as Sir James M. Barrie.

After all there may be no need to stretch a cable along the floor of the Atlantic to divert the course of the Gulf Stream. It is said that this current, of its own volition, is moving in a more northerly direction. New York may have warm Winters one of these years.

In an interview with The London Daily Mail, Sir Charles Tupper said: "It would seem that the new forces are growing up within the old parties. The old party names are merely names. In the future they must cease even to be names." What will the new lines of cleavage be and what will parties call themselves?

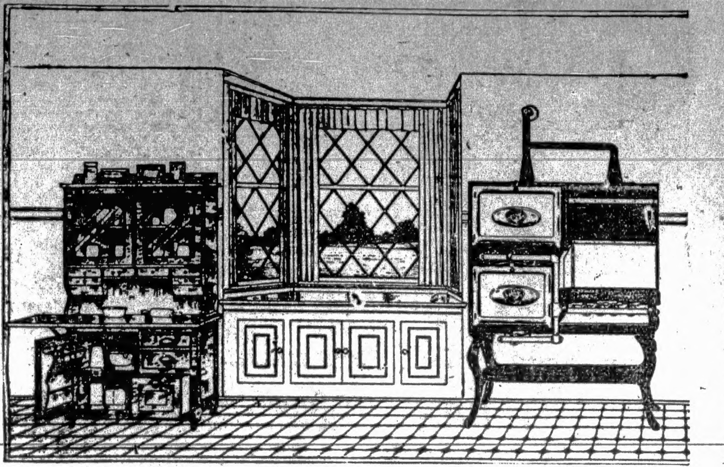
According to a statement published in a United States magazine, if the income tax, as proposed, becomes law, some thirty people, whom it names, will contribute in the aggregate more than $5,000,000 to the revenue, $2,000,000 of which Mr. John D. Rockefeller will have the privilege of paying. We may be permitted to doubt if Mr. Rockefeller will confess to an income of $50,000,000 a year, which he would need to have to pay such an amount.

The Birthday Honors contain the names of eight Canadians. Sir Lomer Gouin has been made a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, and knighthoods have been conferred on Chief Justice Barker, of New Brunswick, Chief Justice Davidson, of the Superior Court of Montreal, and Mr. Hugh John Macdonald, the chief magistrate of the city of Winnipeg. During the last few years the judiciary in this country has been well looked after in the King's Honors.

The Canadian Club is making arrangements to entertain Mr. V. Stefansson and the principal members of his party prior to their departure for the Arctic. Interest in the expedition has also been shown by members of the Natural History Society, which will in all probability arrange for some ceremony connected with its departure. We again express the hope that some co-operative effort will be made by the public to give the explorers an enthusiastic send-off on their four years' absence from civilization.

The Australian ministry seems to have escaped defeat at the general election by the skin of its teeth. The exact standing of parties is not quite certain, but from present indications there will be 38 Labor members, 36 Liberals and 1 Independent in the House. With the Speaker in the chair, provided the Government selects one of its supporters for the post, there will be 37 Labor and 37 combined Liberal and Independent. It will require considerable ingenuity to carry on business under these circumstances. The only precedent that we recall happened in Quebec, where Sir Henri Joly, as Premier, could only pass his measures by the casting vote of the Speaker.

The Modern Kitchen Improved
By the Introduction of "Weiler's" Soft Coal and Wood or Gas Ranges



All the Heat You Want for Cooking—But Your Kitchen Cool

That's what is wanted this hot weather, and is precisely what you may have if you cook and bake with a "Weiler" gas range.

A variety of models—to meet all requirements—are here. They possess many important features—not found in any other range—that make them more than ordinarily economical, reliable and desirable.

The sanitary, white enameled, removable oven plates are a fine feature, but there's lots of other interesting details to show to you.

May we demonstrate their worth to you today ?

If You Can't Use Gas, Install the Best Coal and Wood Range

It has been constructed specially to our orders. That's why the firebox, draught and flue provisions are exactly right for burning the soft coal and pitchy wood used in this district.

This one feature is sufficient to give the "Weiler Steel Ranges" a distinct lead over the average steel range built to meet fuel conditions in general. However, there are many other features that mean better cooking; less fuel, less ash trouble, and a big reduction in time and trouble to keep it clean.

Ranges large and small now in stock. Will you please call in and inspect them?

FITTING HONOR PAID TO MR. R. H. HALL

Presentation to Fur Trade Commissioner of Hudson's Bay Company on His Retirement From the Service.

At Winnipeg, recently, in presence of a large representative gathering of Hudson's Bay officials, Mr. R. H. Hall was presented with an illuminated address and silver tea service and candelabra on the occasion of his retirement from the position of Fur Trade Commissioner. Those present included: H. E. Burbidge, Stores Commissioner; James Thomson, Land Commissioner; N. H. Bacon, who succeeds Mr Hall as Fur Trade Commissioner; W. E. Ada, manager, Winnipeg store; S. J. Rothwell, solicitor for the company; R. Macfarlane, retired Chief Factor.

Remarks by Mr. Thomson

The presentation was made by Mr. Thomson on behalf of the staff in the following words:

"Mr. Hall,—When it was learned recently that you had decided to retire from the company's service, a general desire was manifested on the part of the officials and staff in this country that the regret they all entertained should be conveyed to you in some formal manner, and at the same time expression be given to the esteem and respect in which you are held.

"After forty-one years' honorable service, crowned by the attainment of the position of Fur Trade Commissioner, you now very naturally seek well-earned rest. It is, perhaps, difficult for the many business men of the present day to fully understand and appreciate all that is involved in a career such as yours: the whole period of a man's activity spent in the employment of one corporation, rising from junior clerk to be one of its highest executive officers. It is a splendid record of loyalty, devotion to duty, and success achieved, which you leave on the Hudson's Bay roll of honor—a great inspiration and incentive for the best efforts of any man.

"To this high standard of personal service, often rendered at personal sacrifice, the company owes its honorable position in the world of commerce—a standard which will be maintained so long as the Hudson's Bay flag flies. And it is an article of faith in the service that while in the dim and distant past (1670, though there is a legend that it preceded the Christian era) the company had a beginning, it will have no end, but go on prospering and to prosper.

"The sentiments entertained by the staff have been embodied in the address which I will now read.

"Accordingly, on behalf of the staff I have much pleasure in handing you this address and this silver service and candelabra, accompanied as they are by our very best wishes.

Mr. Hall's Reply

Mr. Hall said: "I cannot find words suitable to express my feelings—my appreciation of what is now taking place. I feel that no greater honor could be conferred on any man than this demonstration of respect and esteem by those who alone have had constant opportunities of knowing me, and whose esteen I value as somthing which riches could not buy.

"It is seldom we have an opportunity to 'see ourselves as others see us,' but I take your beautiful and expensive present and this illuminated address, doubly illuminated by its kindly, feeling words, to mean that after forty-one years' service I have 'been tried in your balance and not found wanting.'

"In your kindness I think you have overestimated my worth—I know I am very human and that my judgment has sometimes been at fault, but, with what intelligence I have possessed I have tried to do my duty fairly and without fear, believing that in so doing I would have the support of all those of the staff, whose support would be of real value to the Hudson's Bay Company.

"I take this most beautiful and costly expression of your esteem as evidence that I have in most instances pursued the course best calculated to advance the company's interests, and to ensure good loyal, honest service.

"I lay down my task with many regrets. The work has had to me a peculiar, almost a fascinating interest, in all its many phases; but the time, I know, has come when, in duty to myself and family, I must draw less deeply on my reserves of strength, remembering that I am 63 years of age.

"I feel sure the company will continue to flourish, that the zeal and loyalty of the staff will grow stronger year by year, and that under my successor, Mr. Bacon, I will live to see the fruition of many of my hopes and plans.

"I need not say how heartily I reciprocate your kindly words, or how sincerely I wish you all health, happiness and prosperity. While sorrow and regret are inseparable from my withdrawal from the work to which I have devoted so great a part of my life, there now rises within me a feeling that my years have not been wasted, when the officials of the company, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the shores of Hudson's Bay and the Arctic Ocean, have united in expressing their esteem and respect in such feeling language, and by such a magnificent and valuable present.

"I cannot close my remarks without expressing the high opinion and esteem in which I hold my colleagues, Mr. Burbidge, the Stores Commissioner, and Mr. Thomson, the Land Commissioner, to both of whom I am much indebted for their wise counsel and sound judgment."

Brother Officials

Mr. Macfarlane spoke of his long acquaintance with Mr. Hall as brother officials in British Columbia and fully endorsed the esteem and respect with which the retiring Fur Trade Commissioner was regarded throughout the service.

Mr. Rothwell testified to the high standard of the company's officers and felt sure that it would be fully maintained in the years to come. While regretting to bid official good-bye to Mr. Hall, he extended a hearty welcome to Mr. Bacon and assured him of the loyalty and support of the company's staff in Canada.

The address is a work of art symbolical of the Hudson's Bay Company's trading operations of the past and present, and was the production of the Ransom Engraving Company. The tea service and candelabra are of solid silver, bearing a suitable inscription, and also Mr Hall's crest. The articles were furnished by Henry Birk & Sons, Limited, Winnipeg.

SUMMER IN THE OPEN AIR

Y.M.C.A. Members Start Their Camp at the Gorge—Service Conducted There This Morning

On Saturday thirty members of the Y. M. C. A. shipped their kit and furniture out to the Gorge and went into camp on the old site on the Hudson's Bay property beyond the boathouses, where they have already spent several Summers. There for the remainder of the Summer months they will be able to enjoy a life of fresh air, bathing and boating to their hearts' content, and all the time within easy reach of their work. The camp this year is limited to thirty members, this number being about as much as the cook is able to look after. They elect their own officers and have drawn up a code of regulations, with which every one is expected to comply. Later on, prizes will be awarded for the smartest tents, and the inmates of the camp will hold frequent social evenings, to which friends are invited. A service was conducted in the camp on Sunday morning by Mr. F. W. Witham, the general secretary of the Victoria association.

Pearl Harbor Naval Station

HONOLULU, June 2.—If the weakness of the strata underneath is a menace to the permanency of a solid drydock at Pearl Harbor, as indicated in the recent report of Admiral Stanford, it is likely, in the opinion of naval officers here that a large floating dock will be constructed instead. It is not thought that the original idea of a big naval station at Pearl Harbor will be abandoned completely.

The flames were making their way up the side of the house when the apparatus from the Oak Bay fire hall arrived. Little damage was done.

More Railway Structures—Further additions to the buildings to be erected by the E. & N. Railway Company on the Reserve will be made. The company yesterday took out a permit for the erection of a one-storey brick storehouse, to cost $4,000.

Mr. Erskine Ill—Very many friends in Victoria will regret to learn that Mr. A. B. Erskine, formerly president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, has been ill for the past three weeks. On inquiry as to his condition it was stated that since a relapse on Thursday his condition has remained unchanged.

Building Permits—Building permits were issued yesterday by the building inspector to Mr. A. Darbey for a dwelling on Morrisey Street, to cost $1,800; to Mr. James Hastie, dwelling on Fairfield Road, $4,000; to Mr. J. Smith, dwelling on Arm Street, $3,150; to Mr. Joseph Parker, dwelling on Joseph Street, $2,900; to Miss B. Sorby, addition to dwelling on Albert Street, $700.

Women's Conference—On Thursday and Friday this week, a district conference of the members of the Women's Institutes of the Island will be held at the Parliament buildings, when delegates from the Island districts will assemble and discuss rural questions and listen to addresses from competent authorities. Another conference for the institutes on the Lower Mainland will be held during next week.

Changes in Library—Several changes have been announced to take place at the Carnegie Library. Commencing from last evening the library will be closed each day week at 9 p.m., and on Sundays the rooms opened to the public will be so only between the hours of 2 and 9 p.m. The room now used by the chess players will be devoted to children, while the former will find their tables in another room.

Appreciate Welcome—Appreciation of the reception tendered by the city to the passengers on board the S.S. Niagara and expression of his delight at the beauty of Victoria is voiced by Mr. J. Chaleya, who, with his son, was a passenger on board the vessel from the Antipodes when she docked here. From Vancouver, Mr. Chaleya has written to Mayor Morley thanking the city for the welcome and hospitality shown.

Booked for Alberni—The secretary of the Vancouver Island Development League has already received many letters signifying the writers' intention of taking part in the excursion to Port Alberni and Alberni next week. The American Consul, Mr. C. G. Nicholson, of the G. T. P. Steamship Company, Mr. Simon Leiser, Mr. W. Blakemore, have all accepted and also the mayors and aldermen of Victoria, Duncans and Nanaimo.

Good Prospect of Fruit—Mr. R. M. Winslow, Provincial horticulturist, returned last week end from a tour of the demonstration orchards on the Mainland and reports that nearly everywhere except Salmon Arm the bloom on the apple trees is off and everything promising well for another good crop. He found the orchards generally exceedingly well taken care of and the organization for co-operative marketing making steady progress.

Applications Granted—When the June term of the County Court opened yesterday one of the first matters considered by Judge Lampman was a list of naturalization applications. Those wishing to become British subjects were Arthur Oates, a solicitor of the United States; Mr. Hans Kurt Seifert, a merchant of Germany; Mr. Robert Russell, a real estate broker of the United States; and Mr. Harry Anderson, a marine engineer of Norway. The applications were granted.

Organized Play—The city playgrounds opened officially yesterday at Beacon Hill and North Ward Parks. Mr. Walter Smaill at the latter and Mr. T. Dines and Miss Jarvis at the former were hard at work until 9 p.m. in organizing games and generally helping the children to enjoy themselves. Later in the season competitions will be arranged between the two playgrounds to see which children are making the best use of the opportunities afforded them of learning both games and athletics generally.

Pythian Sisters' Officers—The names of elected officers of the Pythian Sisters who met in convention at North Vancouver a few days ago, are: Grand Chief, Mrs. Margaret Reid, Ladysmith; G. S., Mrs. Edith Smith, Victoria; G. J., Mrs. M. Laughton, Nelson; Manager, Mrs. E. Ralvlinson; G. M. of R. and C., Miss E. Neitzel, Vancouver; G. M. of F., Mrs. A. Wilcox, Nanaimo; G. P., Mrs. E. Gardiner, Grand Forks; G. O. G., Mrs. O. Gosse, Rossland; Supreme Representative, Mrs. Harris, Ladysmith; alternates, Mrs. L. Thomas of Rossland and Mrs. Collis of Rossland.

Inland Revenue Collections—The Inland Revenue collections for the month of May show an increase of nearly $3,000 over the corresponding period last year, the figures being: 1913, $27,427.92; 1912, $24,648.83. Analysing this total, spirits are found to contribute $17,840; malt, $6,315; tobacco, $2,118; cigars, $418; malt liquor, $562; and methylated spirits, $170.

Enjoyable Dance—A very enjoyable dance was held on Friday, May 30, in the A. O. F. Hall by the ladies' auxiliary of the St. Andrew's Caledonian Society, the hall being well filled. Conspicuous among the decorations was the large Scottish standard. A dainty supper was served, and the dance continued until the early morning. Mrs. Blackwood and Miss Ross, acted as floor managers, while Mesdames Wilson, Chislett, Doble, Forman, Ward, and Miss Withers looked after the supper. Mrs. Ridgard's orchestra supplied excellent music.

Death Due to Natural Causes—Heart failure was the cause assigned by the coroner's jury for the death of Mr. Robert Reid, who collapsed on Friday morning in the reading room of the Public Library, and succumbed while he was being taken in the police motor patrol to the Royal Jubilee Hospital. The inquest was held yesterday afternoon by the acting coroner, Dr. Bapty. Dr. Miller, who performed the postmortem examination, testified to the fact that deceased's heart was badly affected and that death was due to natural causes.

Civic Salary Classification—Although the City Council two months ago appointed a committee to undertake the task of investigating and reporting upon the matter of a civic salary classification, nothing has as yet been done. Alderman McNeill is chairman of the committee, and it is expected that he will soon assemble the committee and proceed with the work. Information of the methods by which other cities on the Coast and throughout Canada are paying salaries to their employees has been secured, and considerable data will be at the disposal of the committee when it starts its work.

Manufacturers' Display—Definite information will be available tomorrow morning as to the extent of the patronage which may be expected for the proposed Made-in-Victoria exhibit in connection with the Fall fair. At 10:30 a.m. there will be a meeting of the manufacturing committee of the Board of Trade, when a full report will be received. Mr. F. Elworthy, the secretary, is understood to be of the opinion that the move is being accorded enthusiastic support. If this proves correct a committee will be appointed to wait on the City Council to request that the appropriation needed to provide the necessary new building on the Willows grounds be made at the earliest possible moment.

More Inquiries—Several inquiries received at the Vancouver Island Development League offices this week are the result of the article on the Island and Victoria recently published in The Sunset Magazine. These are from Montana, Iowa and Colorado. A Frenchman desires to open an establishment for the sale of French and English alimentary products and canned goods on a capital of between $1,600 and $2,000. A Liverpool clerk with his brother, a joiner already in this country, wonders whether they could both find work here at their occupations and gradually work themselves on to a poultry ranch. Their combined capital amounts to $1,600. A Saskatchewan farmer, who has sold out his holding, writes from Winnipeg that he is looking for a warmer climate in which to farm again.

Post Office Business—The Post Office returns for the month of May show a marked increase in the amount of business done over that for the corresponding month of last year, with one exception, namely, the value of the money orders issued, though this may be accounted for by the public preferring the cheaper postal notes for sending small amounts. There was $14,909.27 worth of stamps issued against $12,657.37 in 1912. Money orders issued amounted to $99,340.79 and $56,312.37 was paid, against $101,069.40 issued and $70,315.10 paid in 1912. Postal notes issued total $6,184.55, as compared with $4,836.66 in 1912, and those paid to $4,246, against $3,615.46 in 1912. The British posal orders paid here during the last month have been well over double the amount paid during the same month last year.

Outlook for Cariboo—The outlook for a steady increase in the gold production of Cariboo district is regarded as excellent, according to Mr. C. W. Graham, gold commissioner, Barkerville, who is on his way home after conferring with departmental officials at Victoria. There was a heavy rainfall in the northern interior last Winter, the gauge recording a total fall of twenty feet. The season is backward and indications point to the water running off gradually, ensuring an ample supply for sluicing operations. In Mr. Graham's opinion mining in Cariboo is on the eve of a big revival. Lode mining has not yet been undertaken owing to the cost of getting in machinery, but this will be remedied after the building of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. Although the country has not been systematically prospected, quite a number of gold-bearing quartz veins have been discovered and located in recent years.

Principal Falconer Addresses Presbyterian Congress on Work of Toronto University—Refers to Church Union.

TORONTO, Ont., June 2.—Three sessions of the Presbyterian Congress commenced tonight in two memorable mass meetings. These were held in Massey Hall and Cooke's Church, both of which were crowded to excess. The addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Murdoch Mackenzie, missionary from Hunan, China; Rev. C. M. Wright, of Fort George, and Rev. Dr. C. Gordon, of St. Stephen's Church, Winnipeg. The attendance during the day steadily increased. At the morning session in Massey Hall it was well filled. The interest was even deeper in the afternoon, and the applause more frequent. The addresses are in all cases limited in time, and during the day none of the speakers exceeded this limit.

During the afternoon addresses were made by Dr. Falconer, Principal of Toronto University, Dr. R. Bruce Taylor, of Montreal, minister of what is said to be the wealthiest Presbyterian Church in the Dominion; Rev. A. MacGillivray, well known from his connection for many years with the Sunday school work of the church, and one or two others. Dr. Fraser paid a compliment to the press, volunteering the statement that he was aware there was no metropolitan paper in Canada which could not safely be taken into a Canadian home, and that the weekly papers, of which there were 1,300 printed in the Dominion, followed closely the great dailies in this record.

Principal Falconer, in his address, made a plea for greater religious freedom and for the willingness to trust the spirit of inquiry. He made the only reference of the day to the matter of church union, when he said incidentally that it was the newer thought of the Old World which had led men to lay the emphasis on the essentials and to disregard in comparison the non-essentials and had then prepared the way for organic unity. Men of an earlier day had laid no great emphasis on essentials, and in this way contributed to unfortunate schism.

With reference to the university, Principal Falconer stated that it was a condition of the existence of such an institution that its teachers should be free and untrameled, both in thought and teachings. There was a fear in the public mind at this point. Men occasionally distrusted the possible drift of university thought. The university must be absolutely free, and the students who passed through such a university would come out morally and mentally stronger than will be the case if other conditions prevailed.

Dr. MacGillivray, in speaking of the rights of children, and emphasizing the statement that the church and the state ought to seek to give a chance to the child unfortunate in parentage, made the extraordinary statement that in Toronto in 1912 there were buried about one hundred infants whose fathers were unknown, and whose mothers did not deplore the deaths. In the majority of these cases, no minister was asked to offer a prayer, as the body was laid in the "Potters' Field." Dr. MacGillivray also stated that in spite of the vast machinery at the command of the church, there were fewer of the children in Presbyterian schools taken into full membership in 1912 than in 1911, and fewer in 1911 than in 1910. The church was not only failing to make gains from the world, but was also failing to hold in its membership the children trained in its schools. Not more than fifteen per cent of the boys in the Sunday schools, he said, were received in full communion with the denomination.

Rev. Dr. Murdoch Mackenzie, in his evening address, dealt with the opportunity of work in China, of the work which had been done in that land, and of the opening which was presented owing to the change in the civilization of that nation.

CANNOT ACCEPT BEQUEST

While the city is ready and willing to accept any money which may be had there is the sum of fifty dollars which it will not accept, even in view of the present financial stringency. Recently the city was notified of a bequest by the late Miss Lillian Flint, who died at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, of $50 "to the Ross Bay Cemetery Association of Victoria, for the perpetual care of brother Edward Stevenson Flint's grave."

In view of the fact that to accept the bequest would involve the obligation on the city to perpetually care for the grave, when the city is not carrying out any such policy, there is nothing for it but to notify the executors of the deceased that the bequest cannot be accepted.

PAYMENT FIXED BY AWARD

Arbitrators Name Amount City Must Pay for Damage to Property in Victoria West

An award of $1,450 has been made by the arbitrators which recently sat and heard evidence in respect to the claim for compensation, which Mrs. Okell made against the city for damage alleged to have been sustained by her property on Suffolk and Dalton Streets, Victoria West, through the lowering of the grades on those streets. Mrs. Okell claimed $4,000, including taxes charged against the property.

The arbitrators' award was submitted to the city yesterday morning and sets forth that the arbitrators did not consider that the taxes to be charged against the property for local improvements, or any portion therof, should be included in the compensation. The arbitrators were Mr. Hugh Kennedy, selected by the city; Mr. H. M. Fullerton, by the claimant; and Colonel Currie, third arbitrator.

MEETING OF NURSES' CLUB

Hear Instructive Lecture on Bacteriology—Arrangements for Meeting of Association

The regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Nurses' Club was held yesterday afternoon at the Alexandra Club with the president, Miss E. H. Jones, in the chair. The greater part of the afternoon was taken up with a very interesting and instructive lecture on "Bacteriology," which was given by one of the local doctors. The members also discussed plans for the forthcoming annual meeting of the Graduate Nurses' Association, which is to be held in Vancouver on June 13 and 14. Miss Morrison and Miss Williams, of this city, will represent the local club. The meeting will be held in the Board of Trade rooms, and the programme will be as follows:

June 13—Morning session 10:30 a. m. Invocation; president's address, Miss C. Wright; sec.-treasurer's report Miss E. Breeze; new business; election of officers; adjournment. TIE IN SINGING CONTEST

Schools Get Equal Marks for Both Senior and Junior Shields—High Standard Reached

The singing contest held last week for the Lieutenant-Governor's senior shield resulted in a tie, three schools, namely Boys' Central, Sir James Douglas and North Ward all being awarded equal standing, receiving ninety-seven marks out of the maximum of 100. In this connection the adjudicators, Messers. G. Jennings Burnett, Jesse A. Longfield and J. G. Brown, propose that a "sing off" be held at some early date in a building neutral to all three contestants.

By a queer coincidence the contest for the junior shield also resulted in a tie, the Boys' Central and Rock Bay each being awarded eighty marks.

The standing in the senior contest was, after the three who had 97 each, South Park, 92; George Jay, 91; Kingston, 87; Fernwood, 82; Bank Street, 81; Victoria West, 74; Girls' Central, 58.

In the junior contest after the two winners came Spring Ridge, 73; Hillside, 67; Kingston Street, 67; Sir James Douglas, 66; Bank Street, 65; Girls' Central, 58, and Victoria West, 49.

In their report the judges made gratifying reference to the high standard of singing in the schools, and to the efficient work of Mr. H. J. Pollard, the instructor. Especially did they refer to his personal influence for good among the children. They also suggested that singing be included in the curriculum of the school in the future, and that contests be held in a public hall where parents and friends can attend.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Arrangements for Holding International Theological Conference—Tribute to Memory of Late Bishop Cridge

The Ministerial Association of Victoria held their last meeting before the Summer holidays yesterday afternoon. Arrangements were completed for holding the International Theological Conference in Victoria from August 12 to 15, and the following committee were appointed to prepare the programme: Revs. H. A. Carson, Thomas Green, Thomas W. Gladstone, Dr. Clay, Wm. Stevenson, R. Connell and Dr. Scott. The late Bishop Cridge was a member of the Association and the members remained standing as this resolution to be inscribed on the minutes was read:

"That this Association hereby places on record its high appreciation of the saintly character and the loving fellowship of the late Right Rev. Bishop Cridge, who from the formation of this Association was one of its members and its first president.

"Although of late years the infirmaties of age prevented him from attending meetings, yet from his retirement he sent many loving messages to the Association and urged upon it a very full recognition of its character as the official representative of the church of Christ in this city."

RESERVOIR IS NOW FULL

Reserve Water Supply for City at Highest Level Since Big Basin Was Built

Yesterday morning the level of the water in Smith's Hill reservoir was higher than it has ever been before, the depth being just under twenty-one feet, which means that the reservoir was filled almost to its full capacity, and that there is in reserve about 14,000,000 gallons. The original capacity of the basin was 16,000,000 gallons, but the structural changes made have reduced this capacity to some extent.

There is not a sign of seepage, and Water Commissioner Rust is confident that the reservoir is as watertight as it is possible to make such a work. The added supply from the Esquimalt Waterworks system of 2,000,000 gallons per day has permitted the increase in the reserve supply.

TRAFFIC RETURNS MAKE NEW RECORD

Passengers Carried on Local Lines of B. C. Electric Company in May Reach Highest Total in History of Company.

All previous monthly records for traffic on the local lines of the B. C. Electric Company were broken in May, when the total of passengers carried by the company was 1,178,669, an increase of over 200,000 over the total for the corresponding month a year ago. The Empire Day holiday this year swelled the total materially, the fine weather conditions bringing out an enormous crowd, but apart from the special occasion the month's daily figures were large, indicating the increased business of the company consequent upon the growth of population.

The traffic increase is shown by a comparison of the figures for the first five months of the year, with those of similar periods in previous years. From January 1 to May 31 this year a total of 5,322,488 passengers were carried, with 4,191,319 for the same months last year, an increase of 1,130,669, or no less than 27 per cent.

The monthly figures for the year to date compared with the same months last year were:

	1913.	1912.
January	1,094,744	849,012
February	975,451	757,310
March	1,073,903	823,337

MONTH'S BUILDING RECORD

May Returns Show Quiet Conditions Prevailing in Local Building Trades

The May building returns showed a total of $319,460, compared with $662,165 for the same month last year, but were substantially higher than those of May, 1911, when the total value of the structures for which permits were issued was $287,000. For the first five months of the present year the total was $2,417,005, compared with $3,974,749 in 1912 and $1,181,775 in 1911.

The monthly returns for the year to date compared with those of the corresponding periods in 1912 and 1911 were:

January ...	$ 415,980	$ 319,885	$ 151,445

EVERY BOY ABLE TO SWIM

Y.M.C.A. Puts Bath at Disposal of Boys of City Together With Free Lessons During Summer Months

"Every boy in the city able to swim." This is the ideal which Mr. H. G. Beall, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. has set before himself and the people of Victoria, and which he is taking steps to realize at the earliest possible moment. By the kindness of the Y. M. C. A. directors the swimming bath at the Y. M. C. A. will be rendered available for harness through the Summer months. Special hours through the day will be allotted to the schools and time in the evening given for boys in employment throughout the day.

Mr. Beall is approaching the school authorities to grant time out of school hours for these swimming lessons, which will be absolutely free and also obtain their help in getting the names of boys and permission from their parents. In this way he hopes before the Summer is out to have put a large proportion of boys between the ages of 10 and 17 through the mill and within another year or so the result will be that few if any of the boys of Victoria will not be able to swim.

Mr. Beall, in his lessons, finds the quickest way to teach a number of boys to swim is to set them to practice the "crawl" stroke with "wings" on to keep them afloat.

"The Life of the Camp"

This is the weather for camping! People are hiking to the open places by the hundreds these days and the poor, unfortunate stay-at-homes are missing something that helps to make life more worth while. But, whether you are camping or staying at home this Summer, there is one friend that will cheer you in dull hours and make your hours of joy more keenly delightful,

The Columbia

Columbias have been called "the Life of the Camp," and that is no exaggeration. Whether it be for an evening around the campfire or a picnic excursion from camp to some nearby glade or island, the Columbia may be made one of the party and, whatever the demand, it will "hold up its end" better than any other "member of the bunch." The Columbia does more to get people together, to help in the entertaining and to solidify friendship than any other one agency. It is a great out-of-doors instrument.

Since you can have a genuine, incomparable Columbia for only a few dollars down, and enjoy it while you pay the balance in small instalments, there is no need to wait longer. The golden Summer days are here. Why not come in and select the Columbia YOU want today, or, in any event, this week?

In Women's Realm

At Evening.

I feel an envy very deep
  For those frail little birds that fly
  Across the tranquil evening sky
Before the world has gone to sleep.

Each evening e'er the light is done
  There falls a hush, as tho the Lord
  Were wont to speak a wondrous word—
The promise of another sun.

The traffic of the air is still.
  The clouds are motionless and flushed,
  The very wind is listening, hushed,
As tho to hear the Master's will.

And then the swallows' twittering flight!
  Audaciously, yet half in fear,
  As tho they knew He held them dear
An so forgave them every night

They hasten past; the sun is low,
  The Master's word at close of day
  Is spoken—yet the swallows stray
Enraptured in the afterglow.

Ah, for that confidence divine!
  The knowledge that, however late.
  I seemed to let the Master wait.
His pardon and his love were mine!

Life Saving

The work which has been begun by Mr. P. R. Pomfret, chief instructor for the Royal Life Saving Society in this Province, in teaching young women to save life, is worthy of the highest commendation.

In a city where boating plays so large a part in the recreation of the people, and in which thousands of passengers land every day during the tourist season, the need for life savers must exist. Women are quite as likely as men to be placed in a position where the art of resuscitating and rescuing a drowning person is needed. Indeed, in the camping season, with children playing on the beach and men at their work in the city, women are likely to find such a knowledge of life saving invaluable. To be forced, as the great majority of mature women would be, to look on helplessly while a fellow creature's life is lost is a terrible thing.

Where a girl learns, as Miss Griffin and Miss Archer have learned, to swim easily, to rescue a drowning person and to restore consciousness, untold good may be the result.

In almost every woman there is the impulse to save, but unless one has been trained to swim, to dive and to keep one's faculties alert in time of danger such an impulse is a cause of danger rather than of safety.

Thanks to Mr. St. Clair's instruction and enthusiasm, a great many children in Victoria know how to swim and he has encouraged girls as well as boys to make themselves proficient. It is to be hoped that many more will follow the example set by the young ladies who have already gained the life saving certificates.

Even though they may never have an opportunity of really saving life, the consciousness that they can do so will give them a sense of security that will add much to their happiness.

Supervised Playgrounds

It is very satisfactory to learn that the Parks Committee have decided to open the playgrounds this year at the beginning of June and that there will be two supervisors at each of the two centres where apparatus has been placed.

It is a pity that more children do not take advantage of the Beacon Hill playground. There could not be a more beautiful and healthful spot. Miss Jervis showed last year that she understood little children and was able to add to their enjoyment. There are many more children living in the neighborhood this year than last and the playground to which a man as well as a woman has been assigned this year, ought to be very popular.

In the North Ward Park, the only difficulty is to find room for all the girls and boys, little and big, who want to play there. It will not be long before somewhere in the neighborhood a centre for the very little ones must be opened, leaving this space for the boys with their organized games and for the older people who like to watch them.

However, for this year, with two supervisors, children and lads can be very happy.

Will the Parks Committee find it possible to provide for the amusement of the big sisters as well as the big brothers of the little folks who swing and climb and slide in the sunshine and cool breezes?

If these kind gentlemen were to visit the stores and workshops they would see that there are hundreds of girls who have not passed the age of enjoyment of outdoor games. Perhaps they would see, too, evidences that the unwonted confinement is telling upon the younger girls. There ought to be, in this glorious weather, opportunity for big girls as well as for big boys to play.

There are outdoor games suitable for girls as well as for boys and for little children, but, so far, no one in Victoria who is in authority seems to have recognized the necessity of providing for them in our playgrounds. Until this is done our playground system falls far short of what is needed. Give the girls croquet grounds, tennis courts and, if possible, morris dances and other games suitable to them.

QUEEN ELENA OF ITALY.

The Queen of Italy is one of the best beloved of the many popular queens of Europe. At present her position must be a difficult one. Her father is King Peter of Montenegro, who has shown himself not only a hero in war but one who knows how to yield when the safety of his country demands it, however hateful submission may be to him, personally.

Austria, which demanded the sacrifice of Skutari, forms with Italy and Germany the Triple Alliance. It is necessary that the neighboring nations of Italy and Austria shall be close friends.

Italy is a constitutional monarchy and, perhaps the King himself could not, if he would, influence the foreign policy of the nation. Yet, it must be almost impossible for Queen Elena to help feeling sorrow and resentment at the treatment of her old father and her native land by the powers of Europe.

Yet, perhaps, it is a mistake to imagine that the Queen has expressed or shown any feeling in this matter. She has identified herself very closely with the Italian people. Her conduct during the earthquake in Sicily and at other times of national disaster has been that of a kind and very brave lady who looked upon her high rank as a call to the service of the Italian people.

Her children are brought up very simply, and are taught to love their neighbors in whatever part of the country they may be staying and and to help them whenever possible. But they are happy, merry little folk as the snapshots reproduced in illustrated papers show.

A happy wife, a good mother and a sincere friend of her people, the Queen of Italy deserves to be among the great women of our time.

Lacrosse Players Are in Action This Morning

The Victoria amateurs play the champions again this morning, this time on their home grounds, and as they more than held the Vancouver team even in Vancouver, are favored to win today.

POOR FIELDING LOSES FOR BEES

Victoria Ball Club Has One of Worst Days in Its Career—Dame Fortune Has Hand in Trouble.

Standing of the Clubs

	W.	L.	Pct.
Vancouver	27	18	.600
Seattle	28	19	.596
Portland	23	19	.548
Victoria	23	24	.489
Tacoma	20	28	.489
Spokane	18	31	.367

The Portland Colts, who are visiting here this week, humbled the pride of the Bees at the ball park yesterday. More than that, the colors of the home team so gaily flaunted and proudly admired one week ago were dragged in the dust of ignominy. However it is a matter for some gratification to know that the Portlanders were not invincible; that Eastley, generally a hard man for the Bees to hit, was no great puzzle to the Victoria batters; and that it was not until the game was lost beyond hope of recovery that the visitors really started to bang the sphere about the lot as the score shows they did. The final score was 13 to 3.

To sum up, the real reason for the Victorians' defeat was their failure to field up to form. They had one of the worst days of their career. Dame Fortune, it may be said, had a hand in this. She has always been unkind to the Bees for some reason or other, and is most disagreeable when the team is going well. This season has been no exception to the rule. Recently she handed the club a blow that shook it to its foundations when Charlie Brooks broke his leg. Now the man who replaced Brooks, Lou Nordyke, is out of the game with a sore arm and Delmas, whose return was expected to strengthen the team considerably, is back on the bench with the old wound in his hand opened up. Added to this, the pitching staff is in another slump and it is apparent that the club is meeting with an unusually large portion of bad luck.

The work of the team in the field yesterday plainly showed the effect of the many changes that these misfortunes have necessitated in the past few weeks. The miserable fielding of the Bees threw an easy win to the Colts. Errors and plays that savored of the bush leagues gave the latter an early lead, and they wound up the affair with much hitting.

Eastley, pitching for Portland, had a lot to be thankful for. He had little on the ball and was threatened with disaster on several occasions in the early stages, but it soon became apparent that the Bees' defence was too shaky to admit of them taking advantage of this weakness with any material effect. Eastley was splendidly supported by his team mates, both at bat and in the field.

Hardin started in the box for Victoria. He had nothing but a hope, on which he got by for an inning. In the second he lost control and his support crumbled and two runs were scored. In the third a double followed by a homer brought about his dismissal and Smith went in. Smith's performance was not as bad as it looks, but feeble fielding took all the heart out of him and he was hit to all corners of the lot.

Victoria had a chance up to the sixth. Then all hope fled. Six hits, coupled with slow, uncertain fielding gave the invaders seven runs.

Two homers and a couple of singles in the fourth and fifth innings gave the Bees their three runs.

Sunday's Baseball

TACOMA, Wash., June 2.—A batting rally in the ninth inning gave Tacoma five runs and the game with the Bees Sunday. Kantlehner was not feeling well or he never would have been beaten. The final score was 6 to 5.

Other results on Sunday were: Spokane 12; Vancouver 3, and Seattle 5, Portland 4.

Beacon Hills Win

Last night the Beacon Hill intermediates defeated the East Ends 10 to 3 in a ball game at the Royal Athletic Park.

Ball Game Notes

There will be two ball games today, the first starting at 2 o'clock and the second at 5 o'clock.

The Bees' new pitcher, Fitzgerald, is expected to arrive from Sacramento today. The club also has a new catcher on its roster, Brottem, whom Mike Lynch picked up in Tacoma. He has no experience in professional company, but has the appearance of a capable backstop.

It is acknowledged that the Bee club's chief weakness at the present time is its lack of reliable pitchers. In fact that is its only weakness for the fielding of the team, while very loose yesterday, is generally good. In an effort to strengthen the pitching staff the club is now trying to get into communication with a Chicago city league twirler by the name of Hayens, who Umpire Eddinger says has only one superior in this league, that being Kantlehner.

Rawlings was the worst offender of the team yesterday. His bobbles were directly responsible for several runs.

On Sunday Mike Lynch was presented with a handsome suit case by his admirers in Tacoma.

Tomorrow's ball will start at 4 o'clock, Thursday's at 6:10, Friday's at 4 and Saturday's at 2:30 and 6:10.

GREAT FOOTBALL PLAYER IN TOWN

Benny Erb, Former Victorian, Returns After Graduating From Stanford—Has Made Reputation as Rugby Player.

Benny Erb, who is considered to be the greatest Rugby football fullback in America, is in Victoria on a visit. Erb formerly made his home here, but during the last few years he has been domiciled in California, where he attended Stanford University.

Erb was well known as an athlete of exceptional ability when a student of the Victoria High School some four or five years ago, but it was not until he entered Stanford that he became widely known. He had no more than become settled there when he took up football with the same zest and earnestness that marked his play here, and his cool-headed, clever work soon found him a place amongst the regulars. He represented Stanford in the seasons of 1908, 1910, 1911 and 1912, and was a member of the All-American team that toured Australia in 1910. In 1908 he was picked as halfback on the All-American team and was again selected for the same position in 1910. In 1911 he was reserve fullback to Floyd Brown, and last year again took the honors, playing the position in the international game America vs. Australia.

Erb has a host of friends in Victoria who will be pleased to know that he graduated very creditably from Stanford. He is at the present time the guest of Bob Green, another former local High School boy, who recently returned from McGill College, Montreal. Erb will spend about two weeks in Victoria, and then leave for Alaska, where he will devote his attention to mining.

Now that the trouble between Stanford and California Universities has been patched up, says Erb, there is every reason to believe that Rugby football on the Coast will enter upon an era of prosperity such as it has never before experienced. Efforts are being made to have some of the greatest teams in the wirld visit California next season and it is more than probable that British Columbia will be included in their itineraries.

Mr. R. M. Anderson, of Ottawa, a member of the Canadian Arctic expedition, is a guest at James Bay Hotel.

LACROSSE GAME AT PARK TODAY

Victoria and Vancouver Meet a Second Time in Pacific Coast Amateur Series—Chances Seem to Favor Locals.

The Victoria and Vancouver amateur lacrosse teams will come together for the second time this season at the Royal Athletic Park this morning, the game starting at 10:30. There was some talk of having the game commenced at 4 o'clock, but the decision of the ball clubs to play two games makes that impossible.

The prospects appear favorable for the local twelve. It was generally admitted that they had a little the better of the play in Vancouver two weeks ago before the trouble occurred which caused Victoria to walk off the field, and as they will have the advantage of playing on their own grounds today, chances look good for a Victoria win. The players have been working in peppery style in practice and are all in condition.

The Victoria team will take the field as follows, the only change being the replacement of Styles by Stan Okell: Johnson, goal; Clegg, point; Dakers, cover; Sweeney, first defence; S. Okell, second defence; J. Johnson, third defence; McCarter, centre; A. McGregor, third home; C. Baker, second home; L. McDonald, first home; J. Clute, outside; Brynjolfsen, inside; Taylor, Styles and Petticrew, reserves. Messrs. Jesse and Dinsmore will referee.

Protest Thrown Out

NEW WESTMINSTER, June 2.—At the meeting of the three arbitrators appointed to look into the protest of Victoria in connection with the opening game of the lacrosse season it was decided that the protest should be thrown out.

The arbitrators were the three Westminster men, Messrs. S. D. Peele, H. W. Sangster and Tim Mahoney. The other representatives were Milton Oppenheimer, Fowler, Struthers and Gunn, of the V. A. C., and Boss Johnson, of Victoria.

Victoria based the protest on the claim that the whistle was blown before the V. A. C. side scored their winning goal and that the Victoria team had by that time left the field. It was also claimed that George Tuck, Vancouver, blew his whistle, but both Fred Lynch and Tuck himself denied this. The arbitrators then drew the attention of the Victoria report to a clause in the constitution stating that any team leaving the field before the expiry of the proper time shall forfeit the game. This was held to be decisive and the decision was given to reject the protest.

TOURING CRICKET TEAM ON WAY TO CALGARY

Australians Loud in Praise of Treatment They Received From British Columbia Cricketers

Their last words as they boarded the boat a hearty expression of appreciation of the fine treatment they had received in Victoria the great Australian cricket team left Saturday night for Calgary, where they will play the next match of their tour of Canada and the United States. The Australians won all three games here in easy fashion, displaying form which will undoubtedly pull them through the majority of their matches in America with runs to spare. In fact, it is believed that their only chance of defeat is at the hands of the Philadelphians.

The Australians to a man were loud in their praise of the sportsmanlike spirit shown by the British Columbia cricketers. Aside altogether from the result of the matches their visit had been a most enjoyable one. They had been catered to without stint and made to feel at home wherever they went and no matter how splendid their reception they would always carry with them pleasant memories of Victoria.

Mr. R. B. Benjamin said that his chief purpose in coming to Victoria was to popularize the game and not to make money, and he believed that he had done something towards the accomplishment of his object. He looked forward to his return visit here in September.

The promoter complimented British Columbia on its cricketers. He was of the opinion that with more frequent opportunities of meeting teams better than themselves the British Columbians might develop some first-class players.

WORLD'S TITLE-HOLDER WILL WRESTLE HERE

Peter Buzukos Will Meet Kelly, Canadian Lightweight Champion, in Match for Title

A world's championship wrestling bout will be staged at the V. A. C. Hall on June 10, when Peter Buzukos, holder of the world's lightweight championship, and Charles Kelly, champion of Canada, meet. The bout will be under catch-as-catch-can rules, best two out of three falls.

This, it is believed, will be as interesting a wrestling match as has ever been put on in Victoria. The contestants are physically well matched, and while Buzukos is more widely known than Kelly the latter's chances are thought highly of by many followers of the game.

Both men are in good condition now, but they will continue in steady training until the day previous to the match, both working out at the V. A. C. quarters, the champion in the afternoon and the challenger in the evening.

ALL-DAY CRICKET MATCHES TODAY

Victoria "A" and Albion "A" Teams Will Meet on Albion Grounds—Cricketers Plan to Acquire Enclosed Ground.

Two all-day cricket matches will be played today, one between Victoria "A" and Albion "A" teams at the Albion grounds, Beacon Hill, and the other between Oak Bay "B" and University School at Oak Bay. The former will start at 10:30, and all players are requested to be on the grounds fifteen minutes before play commences. The latter is scheduled to start at 11 o'clock.

The Victoria "A" team is as follows: J. H. Gillespie, R. J. Horton, J. W. D. York, C. Coates, H. A. Spencer, T. Galliher, A. Booth, A. C. V. Gray, Rev. Collison, J. H. Ingles, T. R. Leonard and G. H. Major. The Oak Bay team: A. B. Laurence, H. L. Lethaby, L. G. Norman, C. C. Tunnard, C. Barker, J. A. Greenhill, L. A. Gurney, A. Morton, H. Clarke, W. G. Thorpe and J. H. Hughes.

The Sons of St. George will play a practice match this evening at 7 o'clock. All members and interested cricketers are requested to meet at Burns' Monument, Beacon Hill Park. A good turnout is looked for.

There is a scheme on foot, tentative arrangements in connection with which have already been made, to place cricket on a firmer footing in Victoria. If it is carried out the Cricket Association will acquire an enclosed ground of its own. This would obviate the uncertainty and difficulty at present attached to visits from outside teams such as the Australians, and make possible the provision of all necessary adjuncts to an important match, thereby putting the association in a position to properly entertain visiting teams in the future.

The plan is not exactly a new one, for it has been suggested before, and in fact the cricketers were working on it very hopefully on one previous occasion, but there appears to be good reason to think that it may be successfully carried out this time. And, if it is, the cricketers will have a lot to thank Mr. R. B. Benjamin for. Mr. Benjamin talked with Sir Richard McBride on the subject during Saturday's match, which the Premier attended, and while nothing official has been given out, it is believed that Sir Richard heartily approved of the project and is willing to assist those working on it to the fullest extent of his ability.

RIFLE CLUBS OF CANADA COMPETE

Fifth Regiment and Civilian Associations Participate in All-Canadian Shoot—Conditions Favorable.

The first of a series of Canadian Rifle League shoots was held at the ranges at Clover Point on Saturday afternoon. The weather was excellent with the exception of a short time at the finish of the 500 yards and the commencement of the 600 yards, when the wind was just tricky enough to spoil some good scores. The total of the ten highest who constituted the league team was 944. In the match for the prize presented by Lieutenant Birch the "scrubs" were victorious over the "come backs" by ten points. Sergeant Fatt and Gunner Culross each compiled a possible, the latter at 500 yards and the former at 600 yards.

All scores of 93 and over are included in the League team, except that of Lieutenant Richardson, who belongs to the Corps of Guides.

WILL HARNESS SUN TO WATERS OF NILE

Distinguished American Engineer Establishes Near Cairo a Plant for Heat Transmission.

LONDON, June 2.—There is leaving London today for Egypt a man who is making a radical departure in the generation of natural power. He is going to harness the sun to the Nile.

It sounds like a fable; but it is no more than the truth. Mr. Frank Shuman, a distinguished American engineer, has already installed near Cairo, a hundred horse-power sun plant for irrigation, and his mission in Egypt is to complete the installation and to begin operations almost immediately.

Four times only in the history of the human race has the generation of power been the subject of invention. First came the windmill, then the water-wreel. Thethird departure, and the greatest so far, was the combustion of fuel. Now comes the use of the solar rays, which, if successful—and Mr. Shuman says that success is already secured—will be the most complete revolution of all, solving at once for the tropics the problem of fuel, which in the past has been so great a handicap to remunerative labor, and which in the future, with the diminishing supplies of coal, must become a greater handicap still.

Explaining the character and purpose of his sun-power plant, Mr. Shuman said that "by means of parabolic mirrors the heat of the sun is concentrated to five times its natural intensity.

"This gives us a temperature of about 600 deg. Fahr., and by means of this heat concentrated on boilers the steam is generated, which is used for driving a low pressure condensing engine. This engine in turn drives a large reciprocating pump capable of pumping 13,000 gallons a minute, and thus irrigating in this particular locality 1,000 acres of land.

"You can do the same thing, of course," Mr. Shuman went on to say, "by means of steam generated from coal. But coal in the tropics costs from $10 to $20 a ton. Sunlight does not cost anything. It is true that the cost for first construction of a sun-power irrigation plant is double that of a first-class plant using coal. Estimating the interest on the increased investment at six per cent this places us on an equality of coal at $2.50 a ton delivered at the site of the plant. The plant, moreover, is so constructed that, with ordinary care, it will last for many generation. It is composed entirely of reinforced concrete, iron and glass."

GREAT NEED FOR AN INTERNATIONAL CODE

Subject of Safety at Sea Engenders Widespread Impression That Subject Has Been Dealt With Fully.

LONDON, June 2.—There is rather a widespread impression that the subject of safety at sea has been dealt with fully and satisfactorily, except in regard to certain relatively unimportant particulars. How far this is from being the case is indicated by the fact that in London, in the latter Summer or early Autumn there will assemble an international conference, which will consider the whole question alike in its broadest and its minutest aspects. The maritime powers evidently recognize that, valuable as may be the independent action of individual countries, the great need is for an international code of safety. The convenience of some such code in connection with the future construction and equipment of ships is self-evident. Rules accepted by one country and rejected by another lead to the gravest confusion.

Questions of Convenience

Questions of convenience, however, obviously give place to questions of sufficiency and efficiency. What the powers are trying to do is to devise regulations really calculated to ensure the greater safety of life at sea, and to secure as far as possible their universal adoption. To this end a great deal of preparatory work is in quiet progress, not only in this country, but in the United States and Germany. Committees of experts have been formed to consider various aspects of the subject, so that by the time the international conference meets the whole ground will have been surveyed. Moreover, the representatives of the various powers will be greatly facilitated in their work by an arrangement that various national expert committees shall hold preliminary consultations in London.

Broadly speaking, the question of the supply of boats has been got out of the way. "Boats for all" is the generally accepted formula. As to that, however, the international conference may have something to lay down. It will probably have still more to say with reference to the construction of equipment to the efficient subdivision of the ship. Therefore, it is quite a possibility that the international conference may come to the conclusion that the question of subdivision should be a matter of Government control, such control to be exercised by international arrangement upon a uniform basis. At any rate, under such a scheme the shipbuilders and shipowners of various nationalities would be dealt with practically alike.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Secure City Contract—The contract for the clothing and other materials for use of the inmates of the Old Men's Mome will be awarded to Mr. Lenz, whose bid of $287 was the lowest of a number received by the city.

Cannery Roof Ablaze—A roof fire at the cannery premises at the Outer Wharf called out the James Bay fire apparatus last night at 6:30 o'clock. The fire was quickly subdued and practically no loss was occasioned.

Corpus Christi Procession—A large delegation of Victoria Catholics visited Duncan yesterday and took part in a great Corpus Christi procession, at which Bishop MacDonald carried the Blassed Sacrament.

Hon. C. W. Cross Here—Hon. C. W. Cross, Attorney-General of Alberta, and Mrs. Cross, are in the city, guests at the Oak Bay Hotel. Mr. Cross, who was in attendance at the Liberal convention at Revelstoke, will make a holiday sojourn here before returning to Alberta.

To Study Haidas—Mr. W. E. Myers, of Seattle, is at the Queen Charlotte Islands for the purpose of securing descriptive and historical information concerning the Haida Indians. Mr. Myers is associated with Curtiss, of Seattle, one of the most noted photographers of Indians and Indian scenes in America.

Fire Across the Straits—A vast column of smoke arising above the horizon across the Straits indicated last night at 6 o'clock the progress on the American side of the Straits of a fire of large dimensions. The smoke appeared to come from the neighborhood of Port Angeles and was either from a bush fire or from some large plant on fire.

Urge Greater Protection—The necessity of more stringent regulations to force contractors to provide proper scaffolding around buildings in course of erection was urged by the executive committee of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council in a communication before the City Council last night. It was pointed out that the present building regulations do not go far enough and that greater protection for workmen engaged in building operations in repuired.

Impressed With Growth—An impression of marked activity in the British Columbia cities of Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria in contrast to apparently somewhat dull times in Seattle and Spokane was gained by J. A. Irving, who has returned to Nelson from a visit to the Coast cities, says The Nelson News. Mr. Irving was greatly impressed by the growth of Vancouver and Victoria during the past year, by the large new buildings erected and the new residences in the outer portions of the two cities.

Chimney Fires—In answer to a summons issued at the instance of Chief Davis, of the Victoria Fire Department, Mr. G. H. Barnard, M. P., appeared in the police court yesterday morning to explain how it was that the chimney of his residence, 1462 Rockland Avenue, happened to catch fire a few days ago. Mr. Barnard answered in person. He said that the first fire lighted started a blaze that threatened the building for a time. He pleaded guilty and was fined $20. The premises of Kwong Tai, 540 Fisguard Street, was the scene recently of a similar conflagration and he was fined the same amount.

Objects to Spur Track—Objection to the application of the Vancouver Island Properties & Securities, Limited, for permission to run a spur track from the line of the V. & S. along Market Street east of Rose Street, was made by Alderman Porter when the company's request came before the City Council last night. The alderman objected to any spur tracks on residential streets, opining that since all railway development will centre on the Indian Reserve, that was the location for any new trackage. The application was referred to the city engineer and city solicitor for report.

Constable Resigns — After twenty years of faithful service in the district tributary to Ladysmith, Provincial Police Officer George Cassidy has resigned. Ill health has forced Mr. Cassidy to this course, and he hopes that rest on his farm may restore him to his former state of health. Mr. Cassidy first acted as constable in the district, but when Ladysmith started he was removed to that point, and there he has remained since with the exception of a couple of months at South Wellington. After Ladysmith was incorporated as a city of course his duties were confined to the district.

Wants Officials Present—Contention on the part of Alderman Houston to the effect that the heads of city departments should be present at Council sessions in order to be on hand to give needed information to members of the board, was made last night when a question relating to the purchase of sewer plant was raised. City Engineer Rust, who had been present at the meeting, had departed and there was no one on hand to give the required information. Other Aldermen voiced a similar complaint, but no action towards notifying the officials of the desire of the Council was taken.

Must Purchase Plant—In view of the recent judgment of Mr. Justice Morrison, to the effect that the city's application for an order directing the receiver of the Westholme Lumber Company to hand over to the city certain tents and other plant placed by the company on the Sooke Lake development work, could not be granted, the city will have to purchase the plant. City Solicitor Robertson gave this opinion at last night's meeting of the City Council, and stated that the cost of he plan so purchased may be charged up against the money now held by the city as a hold-back against the company for the proper execution of the waterworks contract.

Delegates From Victoria—Grand Knight J. D. O'Connell and Mr. W. H. P. Sweeney are delegates from Victoria to the Knights of Columbus State Council in Nelson.

What the "Russell" Did on Victoria Day!

The Hill Climbing Contest for the "Spectator" Trophy, held on Victoria Day, under the auspices of the Hamilton Automobile Club, attracted thousands of people to the course, including many from Montreal, Toronto and other points.

The contest comprised three classes. Cars rated over 35 h. p., between 26 and 35 h. p., and 26 h. p. or under. The R. A. C. rating was used, in which the bore and the stroke of the engine formed the basis of the horse power.

The course from the John Street hay market to the summit of the Strongman Road served as an excellent test by reason of the sharp, or hair-pin turns in the course up the mountainside. These turns had to be negotiated slowly, and tested to the fullest extent, the flexibility and power of the motor.

The Russell-Knight "26," driven by Mr. W. R. Bennett, won out in class No. 3, and clearly demonstrated its superiority over the other cars entered. This excellent motor had no difficulty in negotiating the steep hill or series of hills, including the sharp turns, faster than any of the others. The time for this distance was 2:53.

VOLUNTEER AIRMEN FORM OWN CORPS

Think It Possible to Make Series of Aerial Raids on Principal Cities of Empire With Equipment.

BERLIN, June 2.—According to the Lokalanzeiger, two French airmen, one called Pol Timonier and the other known only by the initials L. B., have formed an independent corps of volunteer airmen. This organization is supposed to control eighteen aeroplanes and considerable capital.

The leaders of the corps are credited with having worked out the following plan of hostilities to be followed in the event of war between Germany and France:

As soon as German attacks France and attempts to flood the eastern Provinces with Prussian troops, the volunteer airmen will fly direct to Berlin, carrying large quantities of contact bombs, which will be dropped on the city from a height sufficient to render the aeroplanes safe from bombardment.

Depots for the storage of petrol are said to have been established by the corps in order to replenish their fuel without returning to the permanent base and supplies of explosives will also be stored near the German frontier.

Thus it will be possible to make a series of aerial raids on the principle cities of the Empire. After Berlin has been wrecked the corps will turn its attention to Dresden, Leipzig, Cologne, Frankfort and other large towns.

After the ordinary life of the nation has thus been paralysed, the corps will concentrate its attacks on the invading Prussian army and harass them by means of bomb dropping.

The Lokalanzeiger's article will undoubtedly be reproduced by every German newspaper, and thus add to the ill-feeling against France.

The Post learns that designs for airship sheds are being considered by the Prussian War Ministry, but that there is reason to believe that the military authorities prefer revolving sheds to any other type. Revolving single sheds, it hears, are still considered useful as emergency sheds. As soon as the design is determined upon the work of constructing revolving double sheds, according to the "Post," is to be begun and proceeded with as quickly as possible. Such sheds for military airships, it says, are to be constructed near Berlin and at Graudenz, Schneidemuhl, Konigsberg, Darmstadt, Dusseldorf, Cologne, Dresden, and Hanover. It is hoped that they will be ready for the reception of airships by June next year. The "Post" adds that each of the fifteen companies of five new airship battalions which are to be formed will have a revolving double shed, and that each company will have one or two airships at its disposal.

He was glad to say it was not the will of the people, but an action of the Senate which was responsible. The people of Canada might safely, he thought, be left to deal with the question when opportunity offered, and express their views against the injustice perpetrated a few days ago by the Senate under the leadership of Sir George Ross.

People Behind Premier Borden.

Never before in the history of the Dominion had an instance arisen of such an invitation being given. When the time had come that a hint was not considered sufficient for the people it was a sick and sorry day for Canada. Give him the man who waved the flag all the time, rather than he who never even hoisted it. (Applause). They could not do too much to ensure it should always stand for the protection of the people. He had not intended to speak on this subject tonight, but the singing of "Rule Britannia" had made him feel he must say a few words. He was satisfied that when the people of Canada came to weigh up the whole problem there would be an even stronger voice behind Mr. Borden than before. Everyone knew that in season and out of season, the Old Country had been behind them.

Concerning the Liberal convention at Revelstoke, he thought it was pretty nearly time the Liberals were doing something. He believed the inspiring genius, Mr. F. C. Wade, had filled columns in suggestions. The Revelstoke convention had assured Sir George Ross it approved of what he had done. He did not believe there was otherwise as much as a corporal's guard in British Columbia who would agree with the action.

Railway Policy.

In his speech the Premier spoke at length on the matter of the Government railway policy, especially its attitude in connection with the C. N. Railway. He referred to the extension work, such as double-tracking and the building of the proposed line to circle Burrard Inlet on the part of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and also mentioned the work in the Province which was being rushed by the Pacific Great Eastern. The people could not enjoy all they were entitled to unless they had competition. In connection with the latter company he said it was not the intention of the Government that the line should end at Fort George. It was to be an arterial railway to the Peace River district. The Premier suggested that it would be an expensive matter if the project of continuing the Pacific Great Eastern line from the Peace River district to Alaska within the next three years were carried out; and he asked, could they have a better project for joint discussion between the two governments in the year of the one hundredth anniversary of peace.

It was amusing, he said, to see his Liberal friends at Revelstoke whining over the railway policy of the Province, as these were the men who supported Sir Wilfrid Laurier in making one of the poorest railway bargains ever put on the statutes of Canada. In regard to the criticism of the Government for its action in reference to pre-emptors, he stated that the Government had every consideration for the pre-emptor, but until the roads and general extensions necessary were carried out they could not encourage him as it would not be fair to the other people. There was no intention of the Government to do anything extraordinary, but always the firm determination to offer that legislation which would give the country effective government. They had seen what ten years of careful government had done for the Province, and they could take this as an earnest of what they might expect in the future.

CANADIANS ARE HONORED BY KING

OTTAWA, June 2.—A cable received at the Government House announces that His Majesty King George has been pleased to confer the following honors on Canadians:

Knights Bachelor.—Chief Justice Barker, of New Brunswick, Chief Justice Davidson, of the Superior Court at Montreal; Hugh John Macdonald, chief magistrate of the city of Winnipeg.

Imperial Service Order.—William Cochrane Bowles, clerk of votes and proceedings of the House of Commons; William Joseph Lynch, clerk of the Senate.

its people, yet between 1904 and 1908 the late Government had permitted over 5,000 of them to enter Canada. If wives and children were excluded, it was the late Government which had excluded them. If the climate of Canada was harsh to Sikh men, how much more reason was there to prevent the women and children being exposed to it. More than half of the Sikhs had already left Canada. The late Government had made the financial arrangement for division of the head tax money with British Columbia. If there was any blame the present Government was not entitled to it. The question of Oriental immigration was one of the most difficult with which Canada had to deal. Its difficulty was shown by the experience which the American Government was having with California and the Japanese. It would be difficult to fly in the face of the sentiment of the Pacific province and British Columbia was against the admission of the Hindus. The application for the admission of Sikh women and children had been made to the late Government. The whole matter was under consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S Chamberlin, of Vancouver, are at the Dominion Hotel.

The friends of Rev. C. C. Owen, of Vancouver, who met with a serious accident about a week ago, will be glad to hear that he is reported to be much better although it is too early to say whether he is out of danger or not.

KAISER TO RESTORE ANCIENT ROMAN FORT

BERLIN, May 28.—From The Courier European it is learned that the Kaiser is at present engaged in a complete restoration of an ancient Roman fort, the Saalburg, which was in the days of the Roman occupation a "castellum" on the "limes.". The restoration of the fort itself was undertaken some years ago but the work is at present being continued by a company of engineers, who are engaged in reconstructing a Roman camp on the classical plan. The tools used are historically faithful to Roman models, and that on several occasions the Kaiser has acted as overseer during the operations in person. It is announced that the intention of Kaiser Wilhelm is to reconstruct a Roman road next year on the same historical plan.

JEWS OF THE WORLD RALLY TO SUPPORT

Graphic Story Unfolded as to Objects of Fund for the Purchase of Land in Palestine.

LONDON, June 2.—The Jewish correspondent of The London Standard writes to that paper as follows:

A graphic story is unfolded in a pamphlet just issued by the Jewish National Fund of Cologne. The object of the fund is the purchase of land in Palestine for settlement by Jews. Three-quarters of its assets—over $750,000—are invested in Palestine, and the Jews of the whole world have rallied to the support of a project which exercises so strong an appeal to its sentiment.

The object of the pamphlet is to bring prominently before the public the remarkable position of the Jews of Yemen, in Southern Arabia, and by that means to encourage the emigration to Palestine of large numbers of these indignant children of Israel. Yemen is refered to by Jeremiah and many legends cluster around the beginnings of the Yemenite Jews. When they first settled in South Arabia is still open to question, but, according to local tradition, their settlement dates back forty-two years before the destruction of the first temple. Ezra, "as he was about to build the second temple, sent a message to the Jews of Yemen calling upon them to return to Palestine, but they declined the invitaton on the ground that the final salvation had yet to come." Ezra, in his anger, prophesied that they would never enjoy permanent peace in Yemen, and that their wealth would not endure. The prophecy was fulfilled. For two thousand years they have remained in exile. Generations have come and gone, yet their poverty remains extreme. A recent census places the number of Jews in Yemen at eight thousand families—about 30,000 souls—scattered over a few hundred places. The largest communities are in Aden and Sanaa. A few years ago Sanaa had 10,000 Jews; today there are fewer than 2,700.

A recent investigator observes that the material position of the Yemenites in general is very bad. Centuries of war and revolts, hunger and cholera, have impoverished the land and laid it waste. "There is a lack of industrial laborers. One may journey for days and see fine soil lying uncultivated on either side. If one enters a dwelling one is at once struck by the poverty. There is a complete lack of furniture, crockery, bedding, food and clothing." The Moslems, it seems, cannot do without the Jews, as they alone are hand-workers. They provide the peasants with the manufactures they need, repair their ploughs and weapons, and weave their shirts. "They are repaid for this,' 'says the writer already quoted, "after the harvest, if all goes well, with a portion of the harvested durrah. This is the case if there is a good harvest. But what happens if the harvest is a faulure?" The fellah will find himself with a sufficiency of corn to sustain himself throughout the year, but the Jew finds the reward of his labor denied him.

Three-fourths are artisans—tailors, shoemakers, weavers, goldsmiths, potters, masons. They are frugal in the extreme. Even a "rich" Yemenite has no more than one course at his week-day meal. Yet, despite their modest requirements, they are unable to earn the minimum for their existence, and "hunger is a frequent guest." For uncounted years the Yemenite Jews have been the victims of fanatical prosecution, unable, from their sheer lack of numbers, to retaliate. "The Jew is officially called in the legal terminology 'the common fellow.' A number of the laws aimed at them can easily be explained as the outcome of religious fanaticism. Besides, a "population which is on a low level of culture, which has no intellectual occupation and distraction, and which has an abundance of leisure at its disposal, is easily moved by brutal instincts, which find an outlet in tormenting the weak minority and treating them as pariahs." This would explain a number of ridiculous but insulting regulations, particularly in regard to clothing and social intercourse, which have their origin in this circumstance. If a Jew meets a Moslem of any class whatever he must greet him and address him as his master. If he does not do this he is beaten without mercy. "A Jew is not allowed to ride upon a donkey, still less upon a camel." He must make his journeys on foot—there are no vehicles in Yemen—though the distance be great. "The rich Jews must also appear poor, so that they may not provoke envy and expose themselves to plunder."

Call to Palestine

"A Jew may not pass on the right side of a Moslem, but must always keep on his left." It is hardly to be wondered at, in the light of the social and economic disabilities experienced by the Yemenite Jews, that "every Jew sells his belongings as well as he can and emigrates to Palestine. In cases in which the non-Jews will not buy form them they leave their goods behind them and put their trust in God.

This immigration into Palestine has made new men of these shuttlecocks of fortune and it has, moreover, been greeted with profound satisfaction by those who recognize in their coming a new factor in the development of the Holy Land. "Though Palestine may not by any means have reached that high level of development in agriculture and industry which it can attain by reason of its natural conditions, it can, nevertheless, easily provide a place of refuge for 1,000 to 1,200 oppressed Yemenites each year, even in the present circumstances. Added to this, the coming of the Yemenites will do much to counteract the scarcity of laborers and the ruinous increase in terms dictated by the fellaheen. The creation of a Jewish labor element in the Jewish colonies of Palestine will render the agriculturists gradually independent of the surrounding Arab population.

Such is the love of the Yemenite Jew for Palestine that "he will often travel on foot for months with his wife and child to reach the port where he can embark on a ship that will bring him to the Holy Land." He has brought new life to Palestine, and placed himself on the high road to the recovery of his self-respect and the independence so long denied him. There still remains the vital question of building a sufficiency of houses to acommodate the pilgrims. Already the National Fund has increased a considerable amount for this purpose, but the undertaking is a heavy one.

Mr. and Mrs. Lineham and family, of Vancouver; Mrs. Hammond Gowen, of North Bend, and Mr. J. S. Maddock, of Winnipeg, are among the guests at the James Bay Hotel.

ONE SALES AGENCY IS NOW ESTABLISHED

District Representatives Decide by Unanimous Vote—Manager Is Engaged for the Coming Season.

KELOWNA, B. C., June 2.—By a unanimous vote of the district representatives, the Central Selling Agency has now been established. At a large and enthusiastic meeting, J. E. Reekie (Kelowna) was elected president, and F. B. Cossitt (Vernon) vice-president of the new organization, with Captain Stevens (Penticton) secretary.

The executive consists of the president, vice-president and W. N. Townsend (Armstrong). The directors appointed to provisionally hold stock in the association are Messrs. A. W. Bowser and J. Reekie (Kelowna), Captain Stevens (Penticton), G. J. C. White (Summerland and Naramenta), John McLachlan (Peachland), F. B. Cossitt and J. Verhagen (Vernon), W. B. Burnett and W. N. Townsend (Armstrong), C. W. Little (Enderby and Mara), and J. Wilcox (Salmon Arm).

R. Robertson has been engaged for the season as general manager, and a capable staff will be secured as soon as possible so that the work of the organization can be commenced forthwith.

In the course of an interview, Mr. Reckie remarked that the outstanding feature of the meeting just held was the thorough agreement of all the various representatives. Local jealousies, he said, had been entirely buried. A great deal of credit for this was due to Mr. Robertson who had displayed remarkable ability in carrying the matter to a successful issue.

Will Not Antagonize

"Will the new organization control the entire output of the valley," Mr. Reckie was asked. "About seventy-five per cent," he replied. It should be clearly understood, continued Mr. Reekie, that there was no intention of antagonizing other corporations, and it would not be their endeavor to foster anything approaching a combine.

What would be the outstanding advantage secured to the Okanagan Valley by the Central Selling Agency? Mr. Reckie was asked.

The controlling of the distribution of the fruit and produce, he replied. It would be of enormous advantage for no one town or city to be over stocked while another town had not a sufficient supply. This would tend to equalize and steady prices.

It it your intention to cut out the wholesaler? asked the interviewer.

We intend making a satisfactory arrangement with the wholesaler, said Mr. Reckie, and expect to be able to carry this into effect, but we are not in any way dependent upon this. The organization, he added, would be in operation by the first of next month.

Needs of Air-Craft

PARIS, May 29.—Aeronautical experts who attach less importance to sensational exploits that may, at the risk of human life, advertise a particular brand of aeroplane than to the steady progress of aviation towards a more complete security, have long dwelt on the fact that what should be now required of a flying machine is not exaggerated speed, but a really considerable difference between its highest and its lowest speed. Experiments recently carried out with a militay Breguet biplane have given remarkable results as regards this important factor. The biplane, with a load of 450 kilogrammes and three persons on board, attained at the first experiment, during which a difficult wind was blowing, a speed of 71½ miles an hour. Its lowest speed was one 48¾ miles an hour, showing a difference of 32 per cent. With the load of the machine slightly reduced and in better weather, a lowest speed of 37½ miles per hour was accomplished. These remarkable accomplishments prove the excellence of the design of the aeroplane and enable the aviator, even on a very heavy machine, to alight very gently.

DENNY BROTHERS GET CONTRACTS

Two New Princesses for Canadian-Pacific Triangular Run Will Be Constructed on the Clyde.

TOTAL COST WILL BE CLOSE ON $2,000,000

Vessels Will Have to Be Completed to Be in Readiness for the Panama Exposition Traffic.

The contracts for the two new Princess boats which will augment the triangular service of the Canadian-Pacific out of Victoria, have been let to William Denny and Brothers, of Dumbarton, Scotland, according to information received at the local C. P. R. offices. Orders for the immediate construction of these palatial vessels were placed by Captain W. J. Troup, just prior to his sailing for Canada, after consultation with Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the line.

It is understood on excellent authority that the cost of these steamships will be in the vicinity of $2,000,000, the plans calling for a class of vessel far more elaborate in size, speed and interior fittings than the big three-funnel steamers that now ply the triangular route.

Boats of Large Tonnage

Each steamship will be of about 5,000 tons register, and will be capable of transporting twice the number of passengers now handled by the largest boat in the service.

Captain Troup left England last week aboard the North German Lloyd steamship Kronprinzessin Cecelie, which is due to reach New York today. He will proceed direct to Montreal to confer with the head officials of the C. P. R. before coming on to Victoria. Local officials look for his arrival about the beginning of next week.

The Canadian-Pacific Company are anxious to have these new Princesses completed and in operation by the Spring of 1915, so that they will have every facility at their command to handle a big share of the passenger and tourist traffic that will flood the entire Pacific Coast with the opening of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. In fact, there is not the slightest doubt that a clause was inserted in the contracts that the vessels be completed within that time, as the present boats are carrying all the passengers that they can conveniently handle, and new tonnage is urgently needed to take care of the ever-increasing traffic.

British Yards Congested

Although few details have reached Victoria from Captain Troup, there is little doubt that some difficulty was experienced in placing the orders for the new vessels to be completed within a stipulated time, as practically every shipyard in Great Britain is working over-time to keep pace with the big rush of orders for new tonnage.

In general design the new Princesses will be practically a duplicate of the Princess Charlotte, equipped with three funnels, but of much greater length and larger tonnage. All the improvements of the later boats built for the C. P. R. will be embodied in the construction of the new vessels, which, when completed, will be just about the classiest coastal craft plying Pacific Coast waters.

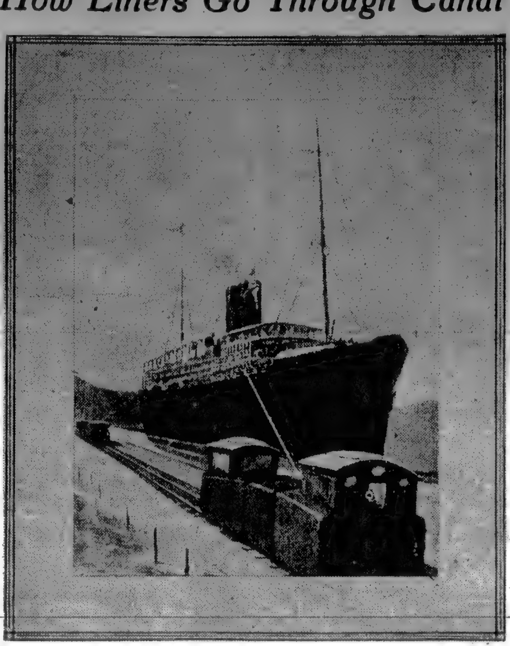
How Liners Go Through Canal



It is not intended that large steamships shall navigate the Panama Canal under their own power, owing to the fear that their wash might cause damage. Electric locomotives, such as the one shown in the above sketch, will be employed to tow them.

VESTALIA PASSES THROUGH CANAL

Big Royal Mail Liner Reported Passing Suez en Route to This Port From London—Candidate Spoken.

Keeping well within schedule, the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's liner Vestalia, Captain Pattie, which is one of the first regular through steamships of the newly inaugurated freight and passenger service between London and Victoria, is reported having passed Port Said en route to the North Pacific coast via the Orient.

The Vestalia left Antwerp on April 24 and eventually cleared London on May 15 with a heavy general cargo for distribution at ports on this coast, and it is expected that by the time she leaves the Far East, she will have the largest cargo of any vessel that has yet been dispatched to the Pacific Coast in the new service. After making calls at Colombo, Penang, Port Swettenham, Singapore, Hongkong, Shanghai, Hongkong, Shanghai, Manila, Kobe and Yokohama, the vessel is due to arrive at Victoria on August 22. She will be followed by the steamship Den of Ruthven, which is due to leave Antwerp on Friday.

Candidate Coming On

The Harrison Direct liner Candidate, from Glasgow and Liverpool, departed from Teneriffe on May 25 for Victoria via Santos, Straits of Magellan, San Pedro and San Francisco. She is due in Port about the beginning of July. Messrs. W. R. Grace & Co. announce the departure of the new steamship Colusa from Iquique, Chile, on May 27 for Salina Cruz. After loading Tehuantepec freight at the Mexican port the Colusa will head for Victoria by way of San Francisco.

Quite a number of passengers are coming north by the new liner.

HOBART ELECTRIC LIGHTING DELAYED

HOBART, June 2.—At a meeting of the New Town Municipal Council a letter was received from J. H. Butters, chief engineer of the Hydro-Electric Light and Power Company, stating that owing to the many difficulties met with, it was impossible for the company to carry out its contract for the electric lighting of the municipality before the end of the year at the earliest. The demands of the old users of electricity have so loaded the plant of the company's sub-contractors, the Hobart Gas Company, that they found it impossible to take on a further load.

It had been decided to install additional plant, so that the people would not be inconvenienced pending the arrival of the company's own power. The additional plant was expected to arrive in Hobart this month and in the meantime the company would undertake to continue present lighting of the gas lamps at a rate of £4 per lamp per annum. The company's offer was accepted.

Two Again in Custody

KAMLOOPS, B. C., June 2.—Thomas Bowling and William Smith, sentenced a week ago at Kamloops Assizes to seven years for robbery with violence from an old man; and Edward Hayes, sentenced to seven years for a similar offence upon an Indian, escaped from the Provincial jail here at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning, through the carpenter's shop. They were seen a few miles from the jail by Mr. S. J. Oquist, who was fishing. The police were informed that Bowling and Smith had been captured in the evening. Hayes is still at large.

Mrs. G. L. Milne, "Pinehurst," Dallas Road, will not be at home on Wednesday or again until the Fall.

ASKING FOR LIBRARY LAW

British Columbia Association Will Hold Annual Meeting in Victoria Next Friday

The British Columbia Library Association, organized in the Fall of 1911 under the honorary presidency of the Hon. Henry Esson Young, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, and the presidency of Mr. R. W. Douglas, of Vancouver, will hold its annual meeting at the Victoria Public Library on Friday, June 6.

The afternoon session, beginning at 3 p.m., will be devoted to the election of officers and to the drafting of the policies of the coming year. In the evening, a union meeting has been arranged with the Conference of the Island Woman's Institutes, where the progress of the Province of British Columbia in the world of culture will be discussed.

The traveling libraries sent out by the Government fill an important position, but by their limitations show all the more clearly how far short they come of covering the whole situation. Different plans in other parts of Canada and the United States have succeeded more or less satisfactorily in bringing plenty of good reading matter within the reach of all, but so far the British Columbia statutes contain absolutely no machinery for the formation or stimulation of public reading centres throughout the Province. There is a law in operation relating to libraries, but it applies only to cities, and not adequately to these.

The association, therefore, wishes to bend its energies in the first place to the formation of a good library law, both purport and purpose of which will be discussed at the annual meeting.

This meeting is open to all, and any one interested in this phase of the country's expansion will be heartily welcome at both sessions.

HILL LINER WILL SOON CALL HERE

Agents Announce That Representative of Great Northern Is Coming to Victoria to Arrange for Dockage Space.

In view of advices received at the Great Northern offices, there is every reason to believe that the huge steamship Minnesota will include Victoria in her itinerary to the Orient much earlier than was predicted a few weeks ago by the Western representative of the company, Mr. L. H. Gilman.

When seen yesterday, Mr. W. R. Dale, agent for the Great Northern at Victoria, admitted that there was a possibility that the big Hill liner might come to this port within the next year. He stated that the managing superintendent of the company, Mr. C. E. Lacey, was coming to Victoria in a few weeks' time to look into the possibilities of acquiring dockage space for berthing the big vessel.

On account of the infrequent sailings of the Minnesota from the Pacific Coast to the Far East, and with a view to creating a large tourist travel to the Orient, the Great Northern has decided to make considerable reductions in the first-class passenger fares by their steamship to the Orient. Mr. Dale announced that the reductions would immediately go into effect as follows: Single first-cabin fare from Pacific Coast points to Yokohama, $150; Kobe, $157.50; Nagasaki, $171, and Shanghai, Hongkong and Manila, $175. Round trip tickets, good for six months, will range from $225 to Yokohama, up to $262.50 to Hongkong and return. The Minnesoto is 640 feet long, and of 13,324 net tons register. She has accommodation for 200 first cabin, 200 second cabin, and 1,000 steerage passengers.

The Norwegian steamer Christian Bors arrived at Melbourne, Australia, prior to May 30 from Mukilteo and Victoria.

HERO OF MUTINY JUMPS OVERBOARD

Suicide of Sailor on Steamer Spokane Recalls Desperate Fight Aboard Liner Buckman Three Years Ago.

Stanford Wilson, who committed suicide by leaping from the steamship Spokane when passing through Queen Charlotte Sound on her last southern voyage, was one of the heroes in the fight aboard the steamship Buckman, when two pirates tried to seize the vessel off the California coast on August 21, 1910. In the fight Captain E. B. Wood, master of the Buckman, was killed. Wilson, a Nova Scotian by birth, was a watchman on the Buckman on this trip.

The pirates were George Washington Wise and French West, who took passage on the vessel from Seattle. At midnight, when the Buckman was off Eureka, Wise and West entered the pilot house and held guns on the officers at their post.

They bound the second officer, Frederick Plath, and commanded the quartermaster, Otto Kohlneister, to hold the vessel's nose toward the shore. Leaving Wise in charge of the two officers, West went to the captain's cabin, and being refused admittance he fired a charge of buckshot through the door, killing the master of the vessel.

Plath, in the wheel house, pulled a signal cord to the engine room for an alarm of fire. The engineer and crew rushed on deck and ran to the bridge. They were halted by West. A general battle followed, in which the chart house was riddled with bullets. At this point Watchman Wilson appeared with the only revolver in the captain's cabin. He snapped the weapon twice at West, but it failed to explode.

Wise fled from the wheel house and West tried to cut the wireless outfit. The first officer, R. G. Berenan, fired several shots at West, who turned on him with his shotgun and revolver. West finally beat a retreat, and strapping on a life preserver leaped into the sea. Wise could not be found, and Wilson, who secured a rifle from a passenger, stood guard until daylight. In the morning Wise was pulled out of his bunk, put in irons and taken to San Francisco. He confessed that he and West, believing that there was gold aboard the Buckman, had planned to murder the officers and crew and beach the Buckman on the coast near Port Blanco and loot her of her treasure.

REBUILT FOR THIRD TIME

Famous Old Clipper Ship Glory of the Seas Converted Into Cold-Storage Hulk

The famous old American ship Glory of the Seas is ready to leave Seattle for Icy Straits, Alaska, after being remodeled for the third time. As a full-rigged clipper ship she won fame as one of the speediest sailing craft of her time; as a barge she conveyed many a load in tow of an undignified tug; as the first floating salmon cannery she gained renown; now she is a floating cold storage plant, with a capacity of 3,000,000 pounds of fish.

For the past few months the old hulk has swarmed with workmen. The alterations which she has undergone have changed her appearance greatly. Most curious of all the additions is the crow's nest perched on her mizzen mast fifty feet above the deck, where a wheel has been installed with which the Glory will be steered in the wake of her towing tug.

A large funnel, rising from the power house on the Glory's main deck forward, gives her the appearance of a steamship. A superstructure has been built over the entire main deck housing the power plant, machine shops, refrigerating machinery and tanks. Amid-ships on the main deck an electric elevator rises through a shaft running through five decks. Her appearance is further altered by the wireless antennae stretched from mast to mast.

SHIP CELTICBURN GETS HIGH RATE

Windjammer Now at Anchor in Royal Roads Taken by Kerr, Gifford & Co. for Fall Wheat Loading.

Captain Chisholm, master of the British ship Celticburn, has been advised by his owners that the vessel has been chartered by Kerr, Gifford & Company at 41s. 6d to load Fall wheat on Puget Sound for the United Kingdom. She will be the first of the 1913 grain fleet to sail from this Coast. The Celticburn, which arrived in the Royal Roads several weeks ago from Santa Rosalia, will swing at anchor until the Fall and proceed about the middle of October to Tacoma.

The only steam tonnage that now remains unchartered on the Pacific Coast are the British steamers Crown of Galicia and Ikala, both at Vancouver.

The British steamer Cape Finisterre, well-known on the Coast, and which has just steamed from the Columbia for Sydney, has been chartered by Davies & Fehon for a round voyage from Australia to this Coast and back at 5s. 9d.

Davies & Fehon are also the charterers of the British steamer Oceano, of the Andrew Weir fleet, announced as taken for one voyage from a Coast port to Australia with lumber. Her rate is 5s. 6d. The Oceano is at present loading railroad ties on the Japanese Coast for delivery at San Diego.

Dunsyre Seeks Crew

In tow of the tug Lorne, the British ship Dunsyre, Captain Smith, will arrive in the Royal Roads today, fully loaded, but undermanned, en route to Sydney, Australia, with a cargo of lumber from Chemainus. As soon as a full crew has been got together the vessel will clear for Australia.

After discharging ballast, the Russian ship Endymion, Captain Johannsen, left the Royal Roads for Vancouver, where she is under charter to load lumber.

Ending a long passage of 77 days out from Mejillones, the Chilean bark Royal Sovereign, Captain Maclean, passed up the Straits on Sunday to load at Port Gamble for Valparaiso. The Chilean ship Curzon, of the same fleet, arrived at Port Gamble on May 16, after a run of 57 days from Valparaiso.

The British ship Bay of Biscay, Captain Ward, is reported having sailed from Callao May 11 for Vancouver, to load for the United Kingdom.

Mrs. and Miss Ulin, of 1442 Rockland Avenue, will be "at home" on Thursday, June 5, from 3 to 6 p.m.

DIFFICULT TO ARM THE OCEAN LINERS

Docking Rules as to Explosives May Prevent Vessels Carrying Ammunition to Make Guns of Any Value.

LONDON, June 2.—The recent proposal that certain of the transatlantic and other liners should carry guns is simple enough at first sight. The question is, however, somewhat complicated when the various details are considered. Those who have had any experience with guns and gun mountings are fully aware of the difficulties involved.

In the first place the firing of guns, even of 3-inch caliber, necessitates a special deck fixing and mounting, and when the mounting of a 4.7-inch or even larger gun is contemplated, it will readily be seen that somewhat extensive alterations in the nature of support for the deck will be required.

Again, guns are useless without ammunition, and the regulations of the port of London, and other ports throughout the world, in connection with this matter, are extremely stringent. In the port of London, for instance, vessels are compelled to unload even red lights and flares before being permitted to dock. In other docks vessels are compelled to land anything in the nature of explosives at a considerable distance from the harbor, so that the question arises as to how the authorities would deal with liners carrying sufficient ammunition to render the guns of an yvalue.

There is yet another aspect of the case which should not be overlooked, that is that the carrying of guns might, in certain circumstances, lead to diffities and even conflict, the ultimate results of which might be very far reaching Finally, the question of the training of a gun's crew would have to be considered The guns of today are little less than delicate and complicate bits of machinery, requiring to be handled with the utmost care To be properly trained also a gun's crew requires continual drill and practise, neither of which can be carried on without considerable expense The time at the disposal of the various liners would seem scarcely to allow of the adequate training of the numbers of men necessary to serve the guns properly At present the whole question is still subjudice, but the ultimate decision of those in authority is being awaited with considerable interest

TWO BUFFALOES TO BE SENT TO DUBLIN

EDMONTON, May 28.—Announcement is made in Edmonton by P. C. Barnard Harvey, Commissioner of Dominion Parks, that two buffaloes from the national reserve at Wainwright, Alberta, where more than 1,200 head of American bison are quartered, will be sent to Ireland this month for exhibition at the Zoological Gardens in Dublin. The animals, the pick of the large drive, which includes the famous Fablo herd from Montana, will be sent by express at a cost of $2,000, to be borne by the city of Dublin. Mr. Harvey has received a dozen applications from men in various parts of the Province to acompany the shipments to Ireland. Mr. McTaggart superintendant of the reserve, reports that the herd is increasing rapidly. Ninety calves were dropped in March and April and at least two hundred more are expected this Spring. The buffaloes are in good condition.

ANCIENT MONUMENT FALLING IN RUINS

Roof of Sacristy, Chapel of the Priory in Rue Reauman, Collapses

PARIS, May 29.— One of the oldest monuments of Paris, the chapel of the Priory of Saint Martin-des-Champs in the Rue Reaumur, is menaced. The chapel, which was built on the site of an abbey of the Order of Cluny, dates back to the year 1060. Though it had been classified as an historical monument, and some years ago a sum of money was voted for its upkeep and restoration, little or nothing has been done. A few days ago a deputation of the Amis des Monuments, headed by M. Charles Normand, visited the chapel, and it was decided to take immediate measures for the restoration of the sacristy. Unfortunately, it was too late. Last night the whole roof of the sacristy collapsed and its outer wall threatens to give way at any moment. It is feared that restoration is impossible, and that it will be found necessary to level the sacristy to the ground.

TO CONTEST CHATEAUGUAY

Hon. Sidney Fisher Likely to Be Offered Liberal Nomination—Three Vacancies in House of Commons

OTTAWA, June 2.—The Evening Free Press, the local Liberal organ, says:

"Hon. Sidney Fisher is likely to be a member of the House of Commons again within a short time. It is understood that he will likely be offered the Liberal nomination for the riding of Chateauguay, opened by the death of Mr. J. P. Brown, who represented that riding in several Parliaments.

"Hon. Mr. Fisher is expected to accept. Liberal members say that should he do so, there will be no doubt as to his return with an increased Liberal majority. There are two other vacancies in the House, one occasioned by the death of Hon. John Haggart, and the other by the appointment of Mr. J. J. Donnelly to the Senate.

"It is understood that the Government is not anxious to have the sentiment in Chateauguay or South Bruce tested for some time, and it will not be before next Autumn that writs will be issued. If the Government finally decides to hold a general election early in the Winter, there are likely to be no bye-elections."

WOMAN STARTS RIDE THOUSANDS OF MILES

ODESSA, June 2.—Mme. Kudascheva, wife of the Hetman of the Orenburg Cossacks, has started upon a ride from a point near Possiet Bay to Northern Korea, and thence to St. Petersburg, a distance in all of considerably over 8,000 miles. It will be recalled that Mme. Kudascheva some few years ago, mounted on a Mongolian cob and unaccompanied, acomplished an adventurous journey from Harbin to Moscow, where she received a great ovation. She is again riding a Mongolian horse, and will be unaccompanied, except through Korea, where she will have as companion, a native interpreter.

It is said that Mm. Kudascheva's first long distance ride from Harbin to Moscow was prompted by her reading the story, in translation of Colonel Burnaby's famous ride to Khiva.

Body Found in Snowslide

NELSON, B.C., June 2.—The body of Harry Johnson, who, with two other men, was carried by a slide at the Noble Mine five miles east of here last Christmas, has been recovered. His hat was seen sticking out of the snow by a cook, and a gang recovered the body, which was much mutilated.

the reserves and take away some good agricultural lands from others. No serious objection wa staken to the bill by the Opposition, which was given a second reading and passed through the committee stage.

When the bill to provide for a wireless service across the Atlantic was taken up at a late hour, Hon. R. Lemieux once more advocated a state owned cable. He doubted if much relief would be given by the proposed contract with the British Wireless Syndicate.

Hon. L. P. Pelletier was more optimistic, and predicted satisfactory results from the arrangements.

ENGINEERS INSPECT BIG CEMENT PLANT

Local and Outside Members of Society of Civil Engineers Will Visit Bamberton Bay Establishment on Saturday.

To visit and view the immense plant of the Bamberton Bay Cement Company, which will shortly start the operation of one of the largest cement manufacturing establishments in Canada at Bamberton Bay, Saanich Inlet, a party of members of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers will be the guests of the management on June 7 next, when a trip to Bamberton Bay will be made. A number of engineers from Vancouver will visit the plant together with local engineers. The trip to Brentwood Bay will be made by special car over the Saanich line of the B. C. Electric Company and thence by launch across the inlet to Bamberton Bay. Every arrangement for the comfort of the visitors will be made by Mr. H. N. G. Bamber, head of the company. At Brentwood Bay the new steam auxiliary plant of the B. C. Electric Company will also be inspected.

For the past eighteen months work on the big cement plant has been under way. The plant will cost over $1,000,000 and when completed will have a large output of cement, unlimited material being available. It will employ a large number of men. It is constructed along the most modern lines.

MEMBERS MAY GET BONUS

Making Efforts to Secure Increased Indemnity—Round Robin Is Being Largely Signed

OTTAWA, June 2.—The Evening Citizen says: "The movement to secure an increased indemnity this session for the members of the House is in full swing, but no decision is yet announced. If anything is done it will be in the form of a bonus rather than a straight increase. Owing to the length of the session, $1,000 is being agitated for, and the round robin is largely signed. The Senate will not be in on the grant.

"We have not decided the matter, but I should say the outlook is not unfavorable," said one of the Ministers today.

CLASS BOXING BOUTS AS PRIZE FIGHTS

Alberta Conference Wants Canadian Government to Place All Professional Pugilism Under Ban

MEDICINE HAT, June 2.—After a lengthy discussion of the fatal result attending the McCarty-Pelky fight in Calgary, and expressing the view that a great difference existed between amateur and professional boxing bouts, the Alberta conference unanimously passed the following resolution today:

Moved by Rev. S. E. Marshall, of Calgary, seconded by Mr. W. H. Clegg of Edmonton: That in view of our experiences in the Province of Alberta in connection with professional boxing which citizens generally regard as virtually prize fights, we, the members of the Alberta conference of the Methodist Church, both ministerial and lay, do most respectfully urge upon the Parliament of Canada, to amend, at the present session if possible, the definition of prizefighting in the criminal code so as to include so-called boxing bouts which have the characteristics usually attendant upon prize fighting, which are already under the ban of the criminal code.

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

LOVE LETTERS OF POET BRING FANCY PRICE

Relics and Household Goods of Mr. and Mrs. Browning Disposed of to Four Corners of the Earth.

Soon after a death-mask of Browning had been withdrawn from public bidding at Sotheby's, the six days' dispersal of the relics and papers, the lares et penates, of the Victorian poet and poetess came to an end, and by the scattering to the four winds of everything that formed their home or belonged to them, rendered necessary by the intestacy of their son, the great sum of £27,934 was realized. Besides the death-mask and the son's huge picture, "Heresy," there was one more relic not sold—yet it nearly crept into the sale—the church marriage certificate of the blest pair. Thus, there was a clean sweep up, and in the years to come Browning relics will be found all over the world. There was an ardent display of devotion up to the last, matching any exhibition of hero-worship, either in the Dickens sale, 1870, or in the Irving sale, 1905, totaling £17,074. For an instance of pure worship of a name the sale of Burns' "Family Bible" in 1904 for £1,560, was a solid testimony Yet, this was dwarfed when the incomparable love-letters of the Brownings staggered the intellectual world by bringing £6,550.

Sentiment and emotion swayed over the auction arithmetic, and keen duels between Browning lovers for the possession of some coveted prize were frequent. Mrs. Florence Barclay, the writer, and Mr. Lauder were often in the lists together. A wild rumor that the latter was the well-known public humorist should at once be dispelled.

Contest Over Relic

He is a relative by marriage to the gifted woman-painter, Mrs. Swynnerton, and in his business has many associations with American friends. The pair mentioned had their first contest over Mrs. Browning's mother-o'-pearl tea-caddy, which the lady novelist won at £18. They fought with polite fierceness for Browning's gold watch and chain, with small gold pencil and signet ring, with the Greek inscription "For Ever," the latter being "hers on her tiny finger once." Bunyan's clumsy tinker's anvil fetched £225 at Sotheby's some years ago, therefore it was not surprising that these delicate relics should induce Mrs. Barclay to give £270. Mr. Lauder gave as much as £100 for a deep easy chair in which Mrs. Browning used to sit and ruminate; and Mrs. Barclay bought for £24 the plain writing table with a slant on which she wrote "Aurora Leigh" in her drawing-room at Casa Guidi. Her writing-case, just as she left it when she died, on June 29, 1861, fell to Mr. Lauder at £28 10s; and Mrs. Barclay gave £22 10s; for the folding deck armchair which always accompanied the poetess. Browning's own desk writing-table, a workmanlike piece of furniture, brought only £12 10s (Bagot); but the rococo bookcase which he put together from old pieces of carved wood went for £65 (J. R. Thomas). This was the case described by his wife, "When Robert and I are ambitious we talk of buying Balzac in full some day, to put him in our bookcase from the convent, if the carved wood angels, infants and serpents should not finish mouldering away in horror at the touch of him." By the way, this project was never realized, as no Balzac books were in the sale.

Casa Guidi Tapestries

Browning's ambition to vindicate his taste as a collector missed fire on many occasions, yet some good marks were earned when "The Muscular Christ" work of Pollaivolo fetched £500 on the first day. There was a much bigger score to his artistic credit yesterday. The two oblong classical panels of tapestry which inspired him with the description of the horse in "Childe Roland" caused Mr. Harding to bid up to £1,400, and his rival, Mr. Van Straaton, next gave £1,560 for three large landscape panels after Van Beyeren. Three other panels totaled £93. The relic of a lock of Milton's hair which inspired Keats to write an ardent dedication, and which descended to Browning from Leigh Hunt, through Dr. Batty, Hoole, Dr. Johnson and Addison, found a purchaser at £80 (Williams). An early bronze mask of a man with a broken nose, by Rodin, given to the poet's son, fetched as much as £145 (Fine Art Society), and the son's bronze bust of the heroine of the "Ring and the Book," Pompilia, £28; his "Dryope" fascinated by Apollo in the form of a snake, the work rejected by the Academy in 1884, and admitted to the Grosvenor on the intercession of the poet, falling for £12; the son's 1886 bust of his father fetching £16. A marble cameo head of Franklin, from Casa Guidi, reached £47 (Knoedler).

More Personal Relics

It is time to draw attention to the personal lots not already mentioned. For an early photograph on tin of the poet £5 4s was given, and the price of that sorrowful shield-shaped photograph frame of Hope End, Mrs. Browning's early home, and of her tomb, designed by Leighton in Florence, was £2 15s. Wherever he went Browning always took this momento mori. The carved green jade hilt of his favorite weapon, described in "A Forgiveness," made £14; his mahogany box writing-desk, used at Warwick Crescent, £16; his ordinary ivory silver-mounted paper-knife, £12; his finger ring, with intaglio crest, £10; a gold locket, with his hair, £10; his father's fob seal, £6; his own ivory watch stand, £2 8s; and his robe as Doctor of Civil Law, which he wore when Oxford honored him on the completion of his seventieth year in 1882, £5.

Lastly, there was a small Derby basket with pierced lid of Mayflower pattern, the sides having painted roses on a blue ground, £5 7s 6d (Sotheran). This was the little ornament on the desk of Mrs. Browning, and every morning her little son used to put a few violets through the lid, as the eternal boy before the eternal mother.

VODKA MONOPOLY FOE TO TEMPERANCE

Reformers Are Devoted and Conscientiously Hard Working Among Peasant Proletariat Fighting Government.

ODESSA, June 2.—The numerous temperance reform societies in this country are all alike most devoted and conscientiously hard-working bodies in the campaign they are waging against the drink evil among the peasant proletariat. Their annual reports bear abundant evidence to the indomitable perseverance with which their mission is prosecuted throughout rural Russia. They are mostly under distinguished patronage and their treasuries are generously furnished by public subscriptions and handsome donations.

The best efforts of these philanthropic associations, however, are greatly handicapped by the Crown vodka monopoly. This highly lucrative Government regie is concerned only with its steadily increasing and well-organized enterprise, it pushes its activities into every village and hamlet. There may be no school in the village, but the vodka store is never absent. The administration of the vodka regie ignores absolutely anything in the shape or form of local option. One hears of innumerable cases where not only the women-folk of a village, but a large minority of the mujiks themselves entreat the district authorities to forbid the establishment of the monopoly in their midst, but the vodka administration is deaf to all protests.

Last year the Government derived a net profit of over $350,000,000 from its vast monopoly. The "vested interests" of the Imperial Exchequer overrides all considerations of the mujiks' health, economic welfare and morality.

CHARGES OF VENALITY SHOWN TO BE RARE

No Power in German Influences Outside Walls of Palace Appear to Rise Against So-Called Krupp Bribery.

BERLIN, June 2.—It is still a subject of thought in Berlin whether the Reichstag discussions on the question of the business methods of German arms and ammunition manufacturies are to remain in history as a nine days' wonder or whether there is to be more of the same in the future. Taking the consensus of political opinion, one is inclined to believe that little can come of the much "boomed" revelations of Herr Liebknecht, but that, on the other hand, it will be some considerable effect of the debates will be forgotten.

Herr Liebknecht's statements were (1) that there was a working agreement between Rhenish firms, (2) that attempts were made to influence the press, and (3) that employees of Krupp's sought by bribes to obtain secret information from the War Office. All these statements made a sensation when they were made, but later consideration has tended to diminish the actual importance of each incident, while giving greater symptomatis significance to the whole. For example, the letter asking for the insertion of a false report dates from several years back and it is stated (a statement which has in no way been denied) that no effect has been given to the request. Then there are two views as to the importance of the actions of the Krupp agent in Berlin.

Charges Strongly Denied

The story that the agent's expenses allowance ran into tens of thousands is strongly denied, and as the affair is under judicial investigation the question of exactly what information and what subordinate officials are involved is not discussed. Probably the most serious impression made in this connection has been the rather common acceptance of of hypothesis that a subordinate German military employee was not above the acceptance of bribes, or as in less incriminating terminology they hav been called gratifications or "small gifts."

In earlier times the Prussian official was always held to be open to no such influences and two or three recent trials on the charge of espionage have shown venality to be rare. There has also been some bitterness in certain quarters at the discovery of the fact that the Krupp firm now possesses almost a titanic influence on public opinion. No power in the land outside the walls of the palace and departmental offices appears to hold such a sway in the public mind. There is still another reason why the "affair" has made such a dep impression.

Nothing is yet forthcoming concerning the legal investigations, althoug the Socialists are highly indignant concerning a police search in their offices in Essen, which they assert can only be made with the purpose of ascertaining the origin of Herr Liebknecht's information. As regards the working ag eements, public opinion is apparently little impressed. Such agreements are common in many industries, and here there is little or nothing to show, it is said, that Germany is in a position at all different from that of several other powers.

War Scare Prominent

The Lokalanzeiger, which leads the anti-French press in Germany, gives prominence to another war scare calculated to increase the tension between Germany and her former enemy.

It deals with an alleged French plot to blow up the principal German cities by dropping explosives from aeroplanes and airships.

The publication of this article is obviously to facilitate the passage of the military increase bill, which includes a large appropriation for strengthening Germany's aerial fleet.

WILL APPEAL FROM AWARD

Messrs. Bernath and Harmon Claim That Arbitrators Did Not Consider All Matters

An appeal against the award of the arbitrators who recently decided the claim of Messrs. Bernath and Harmon against the city for compensation for land taken for the Humpback reservoir pipe-line, has been entered by Messrs. Pooley, Luxton & Pooley, solicitors for the claimants, and notice of such appeal has been served upon the city.

The appeal is made on the ground that the award was not final in that the two arbitrators who signed it did not make an award concerning all matters raised, especially the claim for injury to the claimants' property by the entry thereon of the Water Commissioner and the construction and carrying out by him of works and by the pollution of the waters of the claimants' stream, and the draining of sewarage on to the plaintiffs' lands.

The award was signed by Mr. James Forman and Mr. Hugh Kennedy, the latter selected by the city. Mr. Cox, the arbitrator selected by the claimants, did not sign.

SLAV PRESSURE IS FELT BY AUSTRIANS

Servia and Montenegro Are Believed Likely to Unite and Expand—Roumania May Be Driven to Alliance.

LONDON, June 2.—The policy enunciated by Count Berchtold with respect to the situation in the Near East, is so perilously akin to that which, a generation ago, found its mouthpiece in Count Andrassy at the Berlin conference, as to inspire the utmost doubts as to the future.

When the Austro-Hungarian Minister, with the acceptance of Lord Beaconsfield, insisted on altering the new map of the Near East which had been drawn by Russia at San Stefano, the war of last Autumn was practically assured. The Balkan States, shorn of the just rewards of their sacrifices and efforts, prepared to take at the first opportunity, not only what they had lost, but something more.

The result is the consummation, within a generation, of the very policy Count Andrassy and Lord Beaconsfield intended to prevent.

Count Andrassy meant to keep open the road to Salonika; Lord Beaconsfield meant to preserve the Ottoman Empire in Europe. The Ottoman Empire in Europe has shrunk in the last few months to the peninsula of Thrace and Gallipoli, and a great soldier, Field Marshall von der Goltz, advises Turkey to realize what this means, to regard Constantinople and Gallipoli simply as places des armes, and to institute her new Government at Aleppo or Damascus. As for Salonika, whatever the fate of the "Gateway of Christianity," it is certainly not destined to fly the Austrian eagle.

Way Prepared for Seizure

Count Andrassy, however, carried through another piece of political strategy. He paved the way for the coup de main by which Count Aehrenthal was able to seize Bosnia and Herzegovina. He was thus responsible for the inclusion of that vast Slav element in the dual kingdom which, in conjunction with the people of Croatia, has made the empire essentially Slavonic in blood if German in government. The result of this has yet to be discovered. One thing is certain, either that Austria will develop into a great Slav Pow r, as opposed to the Elder Brother, on the Neva, or else that the very Slav element included in her borders by successive ministers, will be the cause of her ultimate disruption.

As time goes by, Servia and Montenegro are almost certain to be driven into a union. The Sanjok of Novibazar will in a few weeks have disappeared. Their boundaries will lie contiguous, and, having embraced within their borders the Slav population of the south, they will in the natural process of racial development begin to push forward towards Bosnia and Herzegovina and Croatia. Those provinces are largely peopled by Slavs, and by Slavs who have been placed by conquest under the Austrian eagle.

Roumania Will Expand

Simultaneously, Roumania, unable to expand southward, will be driven into an alliance with the Slav States, and will find its method of expansion beyond the Transylvanian Alps, at the expense of Hungary.

That, it appears to cool onlookers, is the inevitable development of a political situation which Austria has aggravated to her own disadvantage by her selfish determination to thrust herself between Montenegro and the sea, and to prevent Servia from finding a natural outlet through northern Albania to the Adriatic.

When such a moment comes, one of the chief actors will be the present Crown Prince of Montenegro. The Montenegrins are the purest blooded Serbs in the near East, and it is by no means uncertain that the family of King Nikita will not exert more and more dominating influence over the Serb races. The stories of a secret treaty between Belgrade and Cettinje probably are, largely, if not entirely apocryphal, but the mere fact that it should be worth while to spread these rumors, is itself evidence of a recogniton of the mistake which, in the opinion of cool thinkers, Austria is committing in accentuating her antagonism to the Slavs of the Balkan kingdoms.

CHINAMAN WOULD BECOME DETECTIVE

EDMONTON, June 2.—Charlie L. G. Hong, who claims acquaintance with members of tongs in various parts of the United States and Canada, more particularly from Northern British Columbia to Southern California, has made application to the police department of Edmonton for a position as a detective. He is ready and willing to lead the regular police to the haunts of fan tan players and opium smokers. Hong, who formerly lived in Calgary and is now keeper of a restaurant in Eastern Alberta, made efforts to gain a place on the plain clothes force of the first named city and laid plans to have H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, use his influence to interest Hon. Arthur L. Sifton, Premier of Alberta, in securing a position on the Provincial force, but his enterprise failed .He was not permitted to see the Duke.

Aerial Derby Illegal

LONDON, June 2.—The Aero office here has practically vetoed the Aerial Derby around London by telling the organizers that the projected hydro-aeroplane races would violate the law concerning flying over prohibited areas. Those interested in the sport regard the official attitude in this matter as a death blow to flying.

Friendly Help—The monthly meeting of the Friendly Help will be held on Tuesday, June 10, instead of today.

Caution!

A MATTER OF POSTAGE

It has been brought to our attention that many persons who mail The Colonist to friends abroad put only a one cent stamp on the wrapper, the general impression being that one cent will pay the postage on a newspaper irrespective of its weight. This is a mistake. The ordinary daily issue of The Colonist requires two cents postage, and the Sunday edition three cents. Newspapers mailed with the postage insufficiently paid are not sent out by the Postoffice.

SHARP BREAK IN NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 2.—Heavy pressure was directed against stocks today and on an increased volume of business prices in many instances broke severely. C. P. R., the exceptionally weak feature, fell thirteen points, a loss within a week of twenty-three points. Union Pacific declined 4 3-8, Reading 3, Amalgamated 2 1-2, and other standard issues to 2 points. Over thirty stocks, of which Atchison, C. P. R., N. Y. C., Southern Pacific and Western Pacific are the most prominent, broke to lowest quotations reached this year. The average of active stocks fell to the lowest figure since 1909.

The action of the market was determined largely by the attitude of the foreign holders of American securities. The unpleasant impression made abroad, particularly in France, by the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway, led to a slump in American securities in London during the holiday period here in which time C. P. R. broke nine points. When trading was resumed here London came into the market as a heavy seller, not only for C. P. R., but Union Pacific, Steel, Amalgamated and other stocks. Sales for London account, amounting to 30,000 or more shares, were instrumental in forcing off prices sharply at the outset.

The bond markets showed weakness in spots with the general movement downward. Total sales (par value), $1,989,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

GRAIN MARKETS

WINNIPEG, June 2.—Slight rains have occurred in Southwestern States and over the Canadian wheat provinces which, although insufficient to help the crop materially, have weakened prices on both months. Last week there was good buying on dry weather and rain indications this week. Sellers were numerous and prices consequently declined. Winnipeg opened 1-4c lower for both months and showed weakness during the entire session, closing with a loss for the day of 7-8c to 1 1-4c.

American markets opened 1-8c to 3-8c lower, declining steadily until the close.

Minneapolis opened 3-8c lower and closed 1 3-8c higher.

Chicago opened 1-8c lower to 1-4c higher. The cash demand for all grades of wheat was poor, with offerings fair, while exports were doing nothing, prices being some few cents out of line. Cash prices closed 3-4c to 1c lower for contract grades and 1-4c to 1-2 for lower grades. Oats and flax were dull. Cash oats closed 1-8c lower. Cash flax closed 1-2 to 1c lower.

Inspections Sunday were 280 cars and in sight are 500.

MONTREAL STOCKS

MONTREAL, June 2.—The unchecked decline in C. P. R. gaining fresh momentum under heavy liquidation from European sources resulted in a wide open break on the Canadian stock markets today. The break was the most spectacular for a good many years and following as it did on a protracted decline, which culminated temporarily in a slump of fairly severe proportions last Friday, it left the markets in a decidedly nervous and unsettled condition. The downward movement which started early in the day under C. P. R. abroad selling was continued practically without interruption until near the close.

The general market has fallen back so completely under the sway of C. P. R. that the immediate course of prices here will depend entirely on the action of the stock on outside markets, while the Canadian exchanges are closed over the King's birthday holiday.

C. P. R., at a low of 213 3-4, showed a break of 10 1-2 points from the close here last Friday. Power at 206 was down 10 1-2 points, Richelieu at 101 showed a loss of 5 7-8, Brazilian at 88 1-2, a loss of 4 1-2, Toronto rails at 136 a loss of 4, Textile at 77 3-4 a loss of 4 3-4, and Iron at 34 a loss of 2 7-8. These were among the more active stocks in the day. Some of the less active issues approached close to the low among the leaders. Laurentide broke 8 1-2 to 100, Winnipeg 5 to 195, Macdonald 5 1-2 to 46 1-2, Tuckets 5 to 45. Ottawa Power, Canada Cement and Ottawa were held to losses of about one point each. Total business 14,875 shares, 300 mining, $10,000 bonds.

LONDON EXCHANGE

LONDON, June 2.—A slump occurred in the London stock market today affecting almost all the most markets. It was attributed to a variety of causes, including the uncertainty of the Balkan situation, fear of labor troubles in the shipping world and the failure of the public to absorb recent new issues of capital. The continued fall in C. P. R., which dropped six points today on heavy Berlin selling, was also a cause of nervousness. Union Pacific fell 3 points.

The depression was deepened by further liquidation and underwriters sales. Brazilian rails and shipping shares and C. P. R. were the worst sufferers, the fall in the latter amounting to sixteen points since the last settlement, creating fears of financial troubles.

Money was in strong demand and discount rates were firmer.

GRAND VIZIER SMILES UPON NEWSPAPERMEN

Talks Affably Upon Reforms in Syria — Denies Assertions Appearing in the Stamboul Journals.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 2—As the incidents in Syria and Armenia bring the question of reforms in Turkey so prominently forward at the present moment, a correspondent went to the Grand Vizier, Marshal Mahmud Shefket Pasha, to ask him the favor of an interview on this subject. Slight and as trim in his khaki dolman as a young lieutenant, the marshal received the newspaper man with his usual smiling affability.

"Your Highness," said the correspondent, "will you be good enough to make to me some important declarations on the subject of a very complete scheme of reforms which you intended to introduce? From several sides I have received information to the effect that today this scheme has been abandoned, under the influence of a section of the party of Union and Progress, which seems to be hostile to the modernization of the Empire, and the ideas of which are said to be exactly represented by articles in certain Stamboul journals, which have excited much comment in the diplomatic world, and in which it is declared that the innovating ideas of Sultan Medjid and the era of reforms, or Tanzimat, began the misfortunes of Turkey."

Mahmud Shefket Pasha broke into laughter.

"I can assure you," he replied, "that all these assertions are incorrect. Those may be the ideas of certain journalists, but they are not by any means the ideas of the political party by which my cabinet is supported. You have followed affairs in Turkey sufficiently long and with sufficient closeness to know that from the very beginning the ideal of the party of Union and Progress is to do for Turkey what the Japanese have had the glory and good fortune to do for their country—namely, renaissance by modernization with the aid of foreign collaboration.

Efforts are Paralyzed.

"If this ideal has not been realized up to the present, it is because all our best efforts have been paralyzed by internal intrigues or external complications. Today, in complete accord with our excellent and venerated Sovereign and our highly intelligent and extremely patriotic Crown Prince, we are thoroughly decided to take in hand again the pursuit of our old ideal, and in the realization of this work of salvation we shall not allow ourselves to be hindered by any obstacle.

"And in order to prove to you," Marshal Mahmud Shefket continued smiling, "that this time it is really a question of a scheme for execution, and not a list of intentions such as I announced three months ago, I will give you the first intimation of a piece of news. Yesterday, at the Council of Ministers, we began deliberations upon the nomination of foreign advisers for the ministries. Observe that I say 'deliberations,' and not 'on the principle,' for we have been in agreement on the principle for some time, but as regards the execution and the choice of persons I cannot say any more at present."

"Now, your Highness," as regards these burning questions of Syria and Armenia?"

"My ideas," the Grand Vizier replied, "have not changed in the least. The new law of the Vilayets has been promulgated. It is a good law, I think; but all its value consists in the manner in which it is applied. I persist in believing that the law can be well applied in the several regions of the Empire, which are so different in language, customs, and traditions, only on condition that the Empire be divided into great zones of civil inspection and gendarmerie, a carefully recruited body of inspectors will watch over the strict maintenance of public order and security, and an administration adapted to the language, customs, and traditions of each zone. In particular, one zone of inspection will comprise the Arab vilayets of Syria, and another those of Irak. I may add that the elected provincial councils will find their powers wide enough to give ample satisfaction to all strictly local needs.

"In the same spirit the whole of Anatolia will be divided into four great zones of inspection, which comprises the vilayets inhabited by the Armenians, will be of such a nature as absolutely to prevent a repetition of the deplorable events which for the last twenty years have periodically desolated these regions.

Believes in Details

"Furthermore, as I believe much more in details than in principles, we are very carefully studying the reorganization of that first call, so to speak, of the administrative organism which is called the commune. With a good communal administration, which takes into account the needs of the poorer classes and prevents them from being oppressed, and with the organization of justices of the peace, assuring for the poorer classes almost immediate and completely gratuitous justice, we hope to do a great deal for the tranquility and well-being of that immense population which by its bravery, devotion and honor, by its gentleness and goodness, forms one of the chief elements of the strength of the Empire."

The Grand Vizier added: "In administrative matters, however, good results are not to be expected in a day. For doing good work we require time and tranquility. We shall take upon our own shoulders the prevention of intrigues and disorders in the interior, but abroad it will be necessary for people to be patient in addition to really granting us that moral and economic support which Europe has so solemnly promised for the work of reorganization and consolidation of the Empire in Asia."

POND'S TAMPONS

Pond's Tampons constitute a form of treatment which has been universally employed and endorsed by leading physicians. For over six years the medical profession has demonstrated the power of this simple, commonsense form of treatment to relieve and, in many cases completely cure, those distressing headaches, backaches and general nervous breakdowns peculiar to women.

The time has come when the originators of Pond's Tampons feel absolutely justified in their decision to place this wonderful system within the reach of every wife, mother and daughter. They believe that when modest women realize how much of unnecessary suffering can be prevented, how many cases of terror-inspiring surgical operations can be avoided, and how many women can be restored and kept in a glorious, vibrant, beauty-bringing condition of health by this simple, inexpensive, painless home treatment, that a supply of Pond's Tampons will be kept in every home in the land.

Do not fail to visit this demonstration. It lasts all this week. If you cannot visit us during the demonstration, ask someone in our Drug Department to give you a booklet of interesting information about Pond's Tampons.
